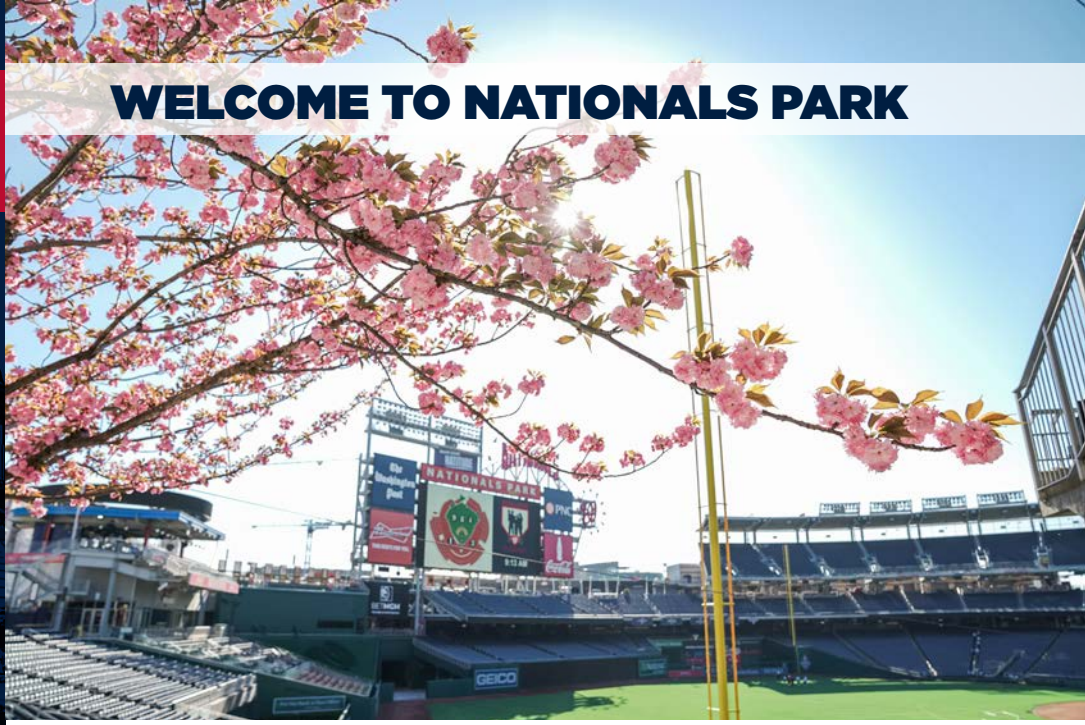
WELCOME TO NATIONALS PARK



Located in the heart of the nation's capital, Nationals Park serves as a cornerstone of the mixed-use Capitol Riverfront, adjacent to the Navy Yard in Southeast Washington.

INNOVATIVE ARCHITECTURE UNIQUE TO WASHINGTON, D.C.

From South Capitol Street, the ballpark presents a monumental façade of architectural pre-cast concrete, metal and glass – features consistent with the traditions of D.C.'s most notable civic buildings.

Nationals Park is easily accessible for fans, especially those arriving from the north via the Navy Yard-Ballpark Metro Station, or on foot from nearby offices and residential neighborhoods.

Nationals Park guests can easily visit D.C.'s other attractions on their way to the ballpark. In addition to the area around the Navy Yard and Southwest Waterfront on the Green Line, guests can take the Orange/Blue Line to the Capitol South Metro and walk to Nationals Park along New Jersey Avenue to M Street. Guests can also take the Orange/Blue Line to the Eastern Market station and enjoy a multitude of restaurant and retail offerings along Barracks Row's 8th Street SE.

Fans can enter Nationals Park through the Center Field Plaza and continue along the main concourse, which sweeps around the entire ballpark and offers an almost complete 360-degree open view of the playing field.

Other entry gates include: Left Field Gate, with entry access on South Capitol Street SE; Home Plate Gate, with entry access on Potomac Avenue SE; First Base Gate, with entry access on Potomac Avenue SE; and Right Field Gate, with entry access on First Street SE.

The seating bowl wraps around the various levels of the facility in a circular expression of steel and concrete, offering openness and panoramic views of the Anacostia waterfront, Navy Yard and landmarks such as the U.S. Capitol and Washington Monument.

BEST-IN-CLASS FAN EXPERIENCE

Adanced audio and visual technology

Nationals Park is equipped with advanced high-definition audio-visual technology, including a nearly 4,800-square-foot high-definition scoreboard and more than 600 linear feet of LED ribbon board along the inner bowl fascia, updated in the 2023-2024 offseason.

Both the main and out-of-town scoreboards now present images with 8MM clarity – two times the pixel resolution of the original display – making Nationals Park one of just a handful of MLB stadium scoreboards with this capability. The ribbon boards running from foul pole to foul pole have been enhanced to 10MM resolution, while Nationals Park became one of the first in MLB with home plate signage featuring 4MM LED technology. Nationals Park has also undergone improvements to its speakers as part of a phased approach which was completed in time for the 2025 season.

Practical multi-purpose spaces

The ballpark also features a variety of fan interactive activities, food service venues, retail operations and family-friendly entertainment to ensure a memorable experience. The Kids Play Area will be expanded beginning with the 2026 season, and will include kids-sized picnic tables, a Screech photo-op, turf and lawn games.

With a fully functioning meeting and conference center, four large club spaces, luxurious suites and spectacular views, Nationals Park is the ideal backdrop for corporate or personal events. And, with X-Golf America, the largest indoor golf simulator entertainment brand, the ballpark continues to serve as the cornerstone of one of the hottest and rapidly growing entertainment districts in the country.

Expanded Kids Play Area

Beginning with the 2026 season, the Kids Play Area will be expanded to include kid-sized picnic tables, a Screech photo-op, turf space and lawn games. Also new this season is the Great President's Chase presented by Jr. Nats, which will take place on all Saturday and Sunday games beginning Sunday, April 19. Children ages 12 and younger can collect a scorecard from the Hospitality Hub, located near Centerfield Plaza across from the Main Team Store. Participants can search around the general concourses at Nationals Park for all four Racing President signs and record the letter displayed (N, A, T or S), identify the corresponding President and note the level where the sign is located.

A Taste of the DMV

The Nationals are committed to making the ballpark a fun experience for all, including through a mix of traditional ballpark concessions, reimagined classics, local vendors and player-selected menu items. The Nationals are proud to support more than 40 local businesses through their ballpark concessions and beer programs, including winners of the Club's annual Pitch Your Product showcase, where the selected local restaurateurs and food and beverage suppliers from Washington, D.C., Maryland and Virginia will be featured at concessions stands and in premium spaces throughout the ballpark for the entirety of the season.

Nationals Park was named No. 5 on USA Today's 10 Best Readers' Choice Awards poll for Best Baseball Stadium Food in 2024 and No. 9 for Best Stadium Food across all sports in the nation in 2023.

The Change-Up Food Hall

The Change-Up Food Hall, located in Center Field Plaza, is a chef-curated space offering a rotating menu including the Player Pick 'Em selections, where Nationals players will choose between two special dishes to be featured in the reimagined space. The food items will vary, representing different themes, player heritages or even game opponents.

Grab-and-Go Marketplaces

Grab-and-Go Marketplaces allow fans to spend less time in line and more time in their seats watching the game. Marketplaces return to Sections 110, 136, 141, 205, 231, 306 and 314 with a new location added in Section 229 prior to the 2025 season. Fans can walk up to any Marketplace, choose from a selection of items and use a self-checkout machine to complete the process using Mashgin Touchless Checkout Systems. Mashgin Touchless Checkout Systems have cameras that recognize the item(s) and ring them up automatically, creating a seamless checkout process.

GREEN DESIGN

As the first major sports facility in the U.S. to earn the LEED-certified Silver designation by the U.S. Green Building Council, Nationals Park was a pioneer in green design upon its construction and is considered one of the most environmentally friendly ballparks in the country today.

Nationals Park incorporates a variety of sustainable design elements, including:

New Energy-Efficient LED field lighting

During the 2023-24 offseason, Nationals Park installed new, energy-efficient LED field lighting, which is not only more sustainable and environmentally friendly, but also provides unique ways to amplify the park's atmosphere.

Solar Panels

After the 2018 season, the Washington Nationals and WGL Energy teamed up to install 4,132 solar panels in two locations at Nationals Park. Two roof canopies cover the upper deck of the parking garages situated on either side of the ballpark.

The power from the project generates a combined total of 1.4 megawatts of energy, supplying an estimated 10 percent of the ballpark's electricity needs each year. Since installation, the solar panels have produced enough energy to power the equivalent of more than 180 homes.

A Sustainable Site

Located near the Anacostia River, Nationals Park was categorized as a brownfield redevelopment and has served as a catalyst for urban revitalization in the area.

The ballpark's location is easily accessible via public transportation, including access to nearby metro stations and local bus routes.

Use of Materials

The Nationals Park playing field was replaced after the 2023 season, which resulted in the old field being converted into 640 tons of reusable topsoil to be used in other community projects.

Water-conserving plumbing fixtures are used throughout the facility, reducing overall water consumption. These fixtures save an estimated 3.6 million gallons of water each year and reduce overall water consumption by 30 percent.

Building materials used on the project contained a minimum of 10 percent recycled content. Additionally, many building materials used on the project were produced regionally, which cut down on transportation costs while promoting the local economy.

Interior materials, including adhesives, carpet glues and paints were specified with low VOC contents.

Roof materials offer a high degree of reflectance, minimizing the amount of heat released to the environment. A 6,300-square-foot green roof above the concession area beyond left field, which houses the CareFirst Giving Garden, also minimizes roof heat gain while supplying the local community with fresh produce.

During the 2024 season, the Giving Garden produced more than 830 pounds of fruits and vegetables that were distributed through Wards 7 and 8.

An Intricate Ground and Stormwater Filtration System

Because Nationals Park is within close proximity to the Anacostia River, much care was taken to treat storm and ground water runoff.

The result is a unique, intricate water filtration system that separates water used for cleaning the ballpark from rainwater falling on the ballpark and treats both sources of water before it is released to the sanitary and stormwater systems.

The Nationals have been recognized by Major League Baseball for their green initiatives in recent years. The Nationals were winners of three consecutive (2020-22) NL East Green Glove winners and were named the National League winner in 2021.

NATIONALS PARK: QUICK FACTS

Opening Date: March 30, 2008

Designed By: The joint venture team of Populous (formerly HOK Sport) and Devrouax-Purnell Architects

2026 Seat Capacity: 41,596

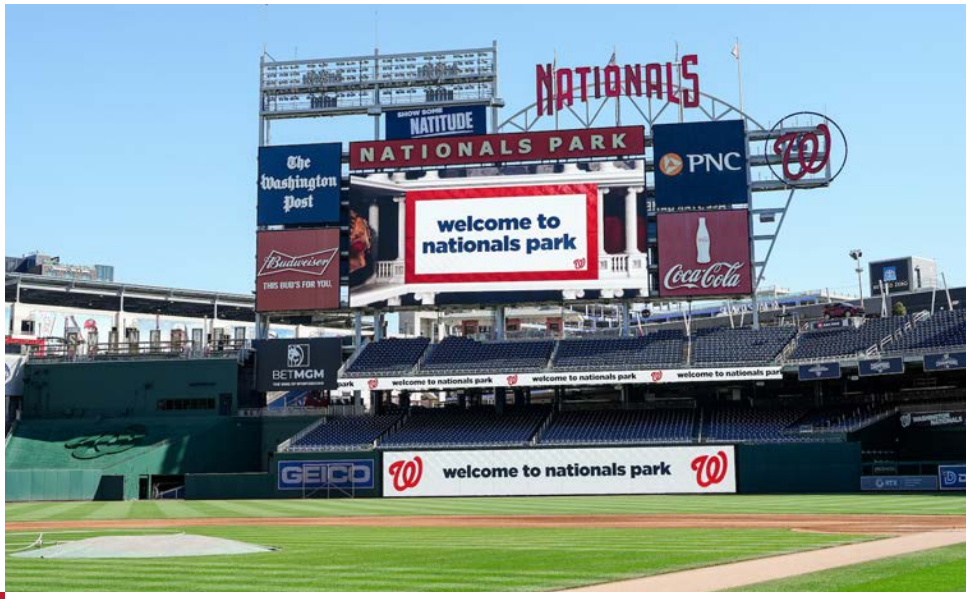
Field Dimensions: Left Field - 336 Feet
Center Field - 402 Feet
Right Field - 335 Feet

Playing Surface

- Following the 2017 season, the playing field went through a renovation project that included an upgraded irrigation system and a new rootzone for the natural grass field.
- Drainage lines consist of six-inch perforated drainage pipes that were installed in a pea-gravel layer, aligned every 15 feet across the entire playing field.
- The natural grass field consists of a three-way blend of Kentucky Bluegrass that is provided by Tuckahoe Turf Farms, located in Hammonton, N.J.
- Infield clay is a designed mix of sand, silt and clay, provided by DuraEdge Products, located in Slippery Rock, Pa.
- The material used for the warning track is a crushed red lava stone, also provided by DuraEdge Products.

Interesting Facts

- Inspiration for the look of the ballpark was taken from the I. M. Pei-designed East Wing of the National Gallery of Art.
- Because the field is 24 feet below street level, more than half of the crowd will walk straight off the street, onto the main concourse and into their seats, without ever using elevators or climbing ramps or stairs.
- Populous (formerly HOK Sport), the ballpark's designer, borrowed the inspiration for an odd, right-angled jog into the left center field fence from the now-demolished Griffith Stadium, former home of the Washington Senators.
- On Opening Day 2016, the Nationals hit a major milestone when the 25 millionth fan walked through the gates at Nationals Park. Among other gifts, the lucky fan received a pair of Opening Day tickets for the next 25 years and a special Nationals jersey and jacket.



NOT JUST FOR BASEBALL

In addition to baseball, Nationals Park was constructed with the purpose of hosting outside organizations and serving as a civic asset for the District of Columbia and surrounding region. Since opening in 2008, Nationals Park has gained a reputation as one of the premier locations for outdoor events and continues to find new and innovative ways to utilize all parts of the ballpark.

CONCERT PREPARATION AT NATIONALS PARK

Thanks to the hard work and dedication of its outstanding grounds crew, Nationals Park hosts outdoor concerts and a variety of other exciting events. The process to transform Nationals Park from a ballpark into a world-class entertainment venue follows several steps:

Concert preparation begins several months prior to concert load-in.

Field transformation begins immediately following the last out of the game preceding the concert. Protective tarps are placed over the entire infield dirt area and protective flooring is placed over the warning track surface.

Next, stage load-in begins. Depending on the stage size and complexity, this can take place over a two- or three-day period. For postgame concerts, this is done within 30 minutes due to a simplified stage set-up. The grounds crew is responsible for overseeing all movement and placement of stage and sound equipment onto the field. It also supervises all crane movement from the time the cranes enter the building until the time they exit.

Once the stage has been constructed, production load-in begins. This process involves speakers, video screens, lights, musical instruments and other electronics. The grounds crew oversees all movement and assists the production team in order to limit or prevent field damage.

Following production load-in, protective flooring is placed across all exposed grass.

The grounds crew then walks the field and stage area several times looking for any last-minute adjustments that need to be made. Air and soil temperatures are closely monitored, as is the soil moisture content.

Concert load-out begins immediately following the end of the concert and concludes anywhere between 16 to 24 hours later.

Upon completion of the load-out, the grounds crew spends the remaining time prepping the field for when the Nationals return home.

IN THE COMMUNITY

WASHINGTON NATIONALS COMMUNITY RELATIONS

The Washington Nationals are committed to enhancing the quality of life for citizens in the Washington, D.C., region. The primary focus is through a series of initiatives that honor military families, encourage youth participation in baseball and softball and support K-12 education in the community.

MILITARY INITIATIVES

The Washington Nationals are proud to work with the large community of military bases, installations and hospitals that serve as permanent or temporary homes to military service members and their families living in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area.

» NATS ON BASE

Through the Nats on Base initiative, the Nationals aim to provide year-round experiences that contribute to the quality of life for service members and their families in the Washington, D.C. region, reaching them where they live and work - as well as in-park. The team works with regional and base leadership to develop programming and identify outreach opportunities at local installations.

• Professional Development

Frontline Forum

Nationals front office executives and coaching staff offer non-military perspectives to service members on a variety of topics, including leadership and specialty fields (security/planning, facilities, field maintenance, public affairs and more).

Base HIIT

Base HIIT is a high intensity interval training (HIIT) workout utilizing the Nationals Park field, warning track, bullpens and stadium steps. The workout is specifically designed for military service members, and it includes nine stations of five-minute workouts, including push-ups, stair running, agilities, shuttle run, medicine ball exercises and core strength work. The Nationals host six Base HIIT sessions for service members throughout the year.

• Intramural Support

Uniform Program

The Washington Nationals provide, at no cost to the teams, a Nationals-branded jersey and cap to each service member participating in a base-affiliated softball league.

Battle of the Bases

Battle of the Bases is a military softball tournament, presented by the Nationals, that serves as an extension of the intramural season at each of the military bases in the National Capital Region. Teams of active duty service members, playing across all National Capital Region installations, participate in the tournament. Preliminary rounds of the Battle of the Bases are held later in the summer to determine which bases will play in the Championship game under the lights at Nationals Park.

• Morale, Welfare and Recreation

Base Program Support

The Nationals offer support in a variety of ways, including mascots, player appearances and ticket and promotional giveaways.

» IN-PARK RECOGNITION

• Branch Days presented by RTX

The Nationals dedicate a special game to honor and celebrate each of the six branches of the military, as well as the National Guard. At each of these games, representatives from the branch will participate in the pregame ceremonies and the Salute to Service.

May 18 - National Guard

June 15 - U.S. Army

June 22 - U.S. Space Force

July 27 - U.S. Marine Corps

Aug. 12 - U.S. Coast Guard

Aug. 24 - U.S. Navy

Sept. 16 - U.S. Air Force

• Patriotic Series

Celebrating America and the national pastime at Nationals Park, these games feature on-field programming and pregame ceremonies to honor service members and their families.

April 17 – Military Appreciation Day

July 4 – Independence Day

Sept. 11 – Heroes Day/September 11th Remembrance

• Salute to Service presented by Leidos

The Nationals offer premium seating in the Nationals Club for select military groups and their families during every home game. At the end of the third inning, honorees are recognized on the scoreboard and receive a standing ovation from fans. Tickets are allocated through military hospitals and support organizations and are not available for individual distribution.

• Al Udeid Air Base Simulcast

The Nationals made annual trips to Al Udeid Air Base, Qatar, from 2023-25 for the Fourth of July to spend America's Independence Day with deployed airmen and soldiers from around the world. The Nationals host a softball game on base, with each team coached by a Nationals alumnus. Family members of deployed service members from the DMV area are invited to the park on July 4 and are able to interact with their loved ones via shoutouts on the scoreboard.

YOUTH BASEBALL AND SOFTBALL

An enduring tenet of the Nationals community work is serving area youth ballplayers and their leagues. The primary focus is to:

• Provide resources, programs and experiences that support and improve the quality of the youth baseball and softball experience.

• Create lasting and meaningful connections for young people and their hometown team.

» BRINGING BASEBALL BACK TO THE COMMUNITY

• Team UP presented by Inova

Started in 2015, Team UP is a cornerstone uniform program that currently supports 30 leagues throughout the DMV, reaching over 1,400 teams and 16,000 youth and coaches yearly. Since the inception of the program, leagues have saved more than $3 million, which can be redirected toward field renovations, equipment purchases, clinics and more.

Originally designed to defray costs by providing uniform merchandise, Team UP quickly became a robust, multi-dimensional program offering opportunities that cultivate a passion for baseball and softball. Participating Team UP leagues are able to receive unique benefits, including but not limited to:

•No cost uniform tops and caps

•Personal player visits

•Free ticket day with early entry event

•Free coach and player clinics

•Mascot visits

Baseball and softball have the unique capacity to unite and Team UP continues to build a shared excitement across the region while creating a diverse and cross-sectional community of youth players.

• Other Activities

The Nationals also offer youth baseball support and recognition through:

•Champions Day – a series that recognizes high school, 12U, 11U, 10U and 9U area teams that have won state, regional or national championship titles.

•Partnership with DCIAA, hosting a variety of engagements and events with local high school and middle school baseball and softball teams designed to further connection to the team and sport.

•Support of MLB-led initiatives, hosting PLAY BALL clinics and Pitch, Hit & Run skills competitions impacting more than 1,000 children from around the Greater Washington region each year.

EDUCATION INITIATIVES

» ALL-STAR READERS

The Washington Nationals understand that sports can play a significant role in supporting education initiatives, especially in areas where kids may be at higher risk of falling behind academically. By partnering with schools, libraries and other educational organizations, the Nationals provide programs that bridge the gap during the summer, promoting reading, literacy, and learning in a fun and engaging way.

• Story Time at Nationals Park: Families join the Nationals on select Sundays for pregame fun with their favorite players. Kids read along with a player, receive free books and literacy materials. The program is free with a game ticket and includes early ballpark entry.

• Library Summer Reading: The Nationals team up with DMV libraries to promote summer reading during the baseball season. Kids track their progress and earn rewards, including up to two free Upper Gallery tickets for a 2026 regular-season game at Nationals Park.

» GRAND SLAM SCHOOLS

The Nationals Grand Slam Schools program exposes students to baseball through co-curricular engagement. The program expands educational opportunities for students by providing educators with fun and strategic ways to engage learning associated with the national pastime of baseball and their local team, the Washington Nationals.

•Winter Writing Challenge: The Nationals provide fourth and fifth graders with materials to write and illustrate baseball inspired fiction

•Physical Education Professional Development: Physical Education instructors join trained coaches at the Youth Baseball Academy to learn opportunities to incorporate the sport into their curriculum.

•STEM Curriculum: Nationals provide schools with a baseball-themed curriculum and all necessary learning materials.

•Field Day Support: Youth Baseball Academy coaches lead fun drills and scrimmages to teach baseball fundamentals.

» NATSPREP

The Washington Nationals believe in empowering the next generation of leaders by bridging classroom learning with real-world experience. Through intentional exposure to the operations of a professional sports organization, this program equips students with practical skills, mentorship, and insight into career pathways—helping them connect their academic pursuits to meaningful opportunities in the sports industry and beyond.

New this year, select students collaborate with the Club's baseball research and development team to build foundational skills in computer programming and statistical analysis.

» ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1972, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award (originally known as The Commissioner's Award) to the player who best exemplifies the game of baseball, sportsmanship, community involvement and the individual's contribution to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was renamed to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The award recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries and MLB Commissioner Rob Manfred annually select a winner from a list of 30 nominees, one from each Major League Baseball club.

» HEART AND HUSTLE AWARD

Created by the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association in 2005, the Heart & Hustle Award is voted on by Alumni and active Major League players and is presented annually to an active player who demonstrates a passion for the game of baseball and best embodies the values, spirit and traditions of the game.

The MLBPAA formed 30 committees, comprised of Alumni players with established relationships to each team. One player from each Major League team is chosen by the committees based on the passion, desire, and work ethic demonstrated both on and off the field. These players are recognized prior to a late-season home game. As the season draws to a close, fans, all Alumni and active players vote to select the final winner from the 30 team nominees.

After his outstanding 2019 season - and his many heroics leading the Nationals to the 2019 World Series Championship - infielder Howie Kendrick was named the winner of the Heart & Hustle Award by the MLBPAA.

» BOB FELLER ACT OF VALOR AWARD

The Bob Feller Act of Valor Foundation, through the unique intersection of baseball and the US Navy, recognizes and honors those who support service men and women with the Bob Feller Act of Valor Award. The award uses Bob Feller's story to educate the youth of today on lessons of citizenship, service to one's country and sacrifice in times of great national need. Teaching the legacy of the Greatest Generation to the youngest generation helps instill in them the virtues of service to others. Sean Doolittle was chosen as the league-wide, national winner in 2018.

TOGETHER WE ARE #NATS4GOOD - Official charitable arm of the Washington Nationals

Washington Nationals Philanthropies, the official charitable arm of the Washington Nationals, is driven by a mission to help children, families and communities thrive through sport-based youth development and access to healthy food. The organization delivers on this commitment through its own direct service programs and by spurring investment in other community-based programs that address the disparity of opportunity for residents of the region. Since 2007, the foundation has issued more than $7 million in grants to local organizations.

Through its signature program, the Nationals Youth Baseball Academy, the organization provides year-round youth development and baseball instruction activities, as well as a holistic food access program – supporting the delivery of more than 1 million meals into the Washington, D.C. region since 2018. Since 2013, the organization has invested $50 million for facility construction and annual programming through the Academy.

Through the generosity of Nationals fans, player philanthropy, corporate champions and community partners, this collective philanthropic enterprise fuels community impact through a number of key initiatives:

- Free year-round youth development and sports programming at the Nationals Youth Baseball Academy
- Expansion of food access initiatives in DC's Wards 6-8
- Grants to community partners
- Community improvement projects
- Expanded impact of player philanthropy
- Engagement with the Nationals fan base

More updates about new projects, events and initiatives will be available throughout the season. For information, please contact philanthropies@nationals.com or visit nats4good.org.

PHILANTHROPY SPOTLIGHT

Award-Winning Community Impact at the Nationals Youth Baseball Academy

Established in 2014, the Nationals Youth Baseball Academy embodies the broader mission of Nationals Philanthropies in fueling access and opportunities for all of D.C.'s children, families and communities to thrive. In the 12 years since, the Academy has served more than 7,000 children ages 5 to 18 through a continuum of holistic youth development programs. Eight classes have matriculated from third through eighth grade in the core after-school and summer program, going on to excel on and off the field at some of the region's most competitive high schools and, more recently, enrolling in colleges across the country.

The Academy provides a range of free youth development and baseball/softball programs, from fun, free clinics for beginners to structured programming that includes training, tournament play, participation in MLB events and more. Academy offerings have evolved over the last decade in response to community need and the growth of youth participants.

In addition to youth sports programming, the Academy serves as a critical food access point for the neighborhood. Its year-round, holistic program infuses food access, enrichment and education directly into the community with the greatest need, using the Academy facility as a civic resource. Nationals Philanthropies delivers 100,000 meals each year through the Academy's weekly produce market, healthy food store and multiple meal distribution programs.

At the end of 2024, Major League Baseball named the Nationals the recipient of the 2024 Allan H. Selig Award for Philanthropic Excellence in recognition of a decade of community impact through the Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy.

» FIELD OF GREENS MARKET | Access

Since 2018, the Academy has operated the only year-round produce market in Ward 7. Every week, Academy families and community members purchase bags of fresh local produce at a heavily subsidized rate. Each bag provides enough produce for a family of four for a week, and heightened demand has persisted since 2020.

» PROGRAM ENRICHMENT | Health & Wellness

Ensuring young participants are not playing and learning on empty stomachs has been a core feature of Academy programs since its opening. In partnership with DC Central Kitchen, BASE afterschool participants receive a nutritious snack on arrival and packaged dinner on departure, and summer participants receive breakfast, lunch, and snacks during the six-week program. In 2023, healthy snack distribution expanded to include all YBA PLAY sites serving more than 600 summer league and clinic participants.

» COOKING CLASSES | Education

Since 2022, nutrition education has included hands-on cooking classes led by DC Central Kitchen food educators in the Academy's fully equipped teaching kitchen where Scholar Athletes learn about healthy choices and fueling their bodies. Scholar Athletes learn about the building blocks of a healthy diet through gardening and science enrichments. Produce harvested from the teaching garden supplements snacks for Scholar Athletes and provides ingredients for cooking enrichments.

LERNER

Dear Nationals Fans:

Welcome to a new season and a new era of Washington Nationals baseball.

With fresh leadership in the front office and inside the dugout, the last several months have been full of change and excitement. It will be a pleasure to welcome you to Nationals Park in person as well as on any screen or personal device on Nationals.TV.

As we look toward the 2026 season and beyond, we are focused on a singular goal: building consistent excellence for the Washington Nationals both on and off the field.

Since Paul Toboni was hired in October, we have heard him repeatedly speak about making the Nationals into the envy of sport, and we're excited to support his vision every step of the way. Paul, Ani Kilambi and Blake Butera are modernizing our pursuit of a championship on the field. The staff they have assembled are focused on each player's development, investing heavily in technology and systems that will help every aspect of growth. As Blake has said many times, "Nobody is a finished product," and we truly believe fans will see a marked improvement from all our players – from the Major Leagues down through the farm system.

Jason Sinnarajah's recent arrival marks an important milestone in building the next generation of the Nationals organization. As our President of Business Operations, Jason has been working diligently with the entire organization to bring a data-informed approach to how we serve our fans and grow your trust and loyalty. Running a strong business will support better baseball and we always welcome your ideas. We hope you will be joining us all season long at Nationals Park because there is nothing like live baseball. If you are unable to be with us, a reminder that you can watch Nationals.TV at home, on the go or while traveling. We hope you enjoy these new options and improvements. As we said, it is a new season and a new era.

As America prepares to celebrate its 250th birthday, we join the rest of the country in celebrating this important milestone. Throughout the season, we will share stories of how baseball has helped shape the fabric of our country and has served as an important backdrop for several major cultural moments. Whether you make the D.C. area your home or you are a visiting family traveling to our nation's capital, we hope that you'll make a game at Nationals Park part of your plans this summer.

One of the core tenants of the 250th celebration is the spirit of volunteerism and how communities are strengthened when we come together. Nowhere is this more evident than in the exceptional work that continues to take place at our Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy. This year, and every year, we salute the coaches and mentors that so generously give their time and talents to help young people in our community grow as scholar athletes and future leaders.

Thank you for your continued support of the Washington Nationals. We are truly excited about what we are building together. We look forward to seeing you at the ballpark and to providing you with an exceptional game day experience while you wear your (Nationals) red, white and blue.

Go Nats!

IN MEMORIAM

THEODORE N. LERNER
1925-2023

FOUNDING MANAGING PRINCIPAL OWNER

From his humble beginnings as an usher in Washington D.C.'s old Griffith Stadium, to the ushering in of a new era of championship baseball in his hometown, Mr. Lerner literally and figuratively built a legacy through his signature mix of tenacity and humility. Guided by love for his family and passion for his hometown, Mr. Lerner dedicated his life to the creation of a better city and a winning ball club.

Mr. Lerner was named Managing Principal Owner of the Washington Nationals on May 3, 2006, and worked tirelessly from that day forward to build a world-class baseball team in his beloved Washington, D.C. He created the framework that brought the 2019 World Series to the nation's capital, and the championship ball club he helped create stands as a reminder of the love he had for this great game and the passion he had for giving back to his hometown.

In addition to his many accomplishments in business and in sports, Mr. Lerner championed the creation of opportunities for all residents of the region and was instrumental in the foundation of the Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy, which provides year-round programming and resources in one of the city's most underserved neighborhoods. Mr. Lerner led by example through his family's own, private philanthropy and set the tone for the ball club's company-wide culture of giving, which still extends into the clubhouse, front office and in the stands. He was honored with the Washington Nationals Philanthropies "Power of Baseball Award" in 2022 in recognition of the many ways he's improved the city of Washington, D.C. and the lives of its residents.

A founding member of the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum, Mr. Lerner was awarded the Golden Plate Award of Excellence from the American Academy of Achievement in 1990. He is a member of the Washington Business Hall of Fame (2003), The George Washington University School of Business Sports Executives Hall of Fame (2007), Jewish Community Center of Greater Washington Sports Hall of Fame (2007) and Washington D.C. Sports Hall of Fame (2014). He received the Thomas G. Corcoran Award by the University Club of D.C in 2014, and in 2015 was awarded the Urban Land Institute Lifetime Achievement Award.

- The District Blueprint cap and jersey patch both feature a new stylized block W, which surrounds the outline of the Capitol Dome...The W is flanked on either side by the District's iconic cherry blossoms.

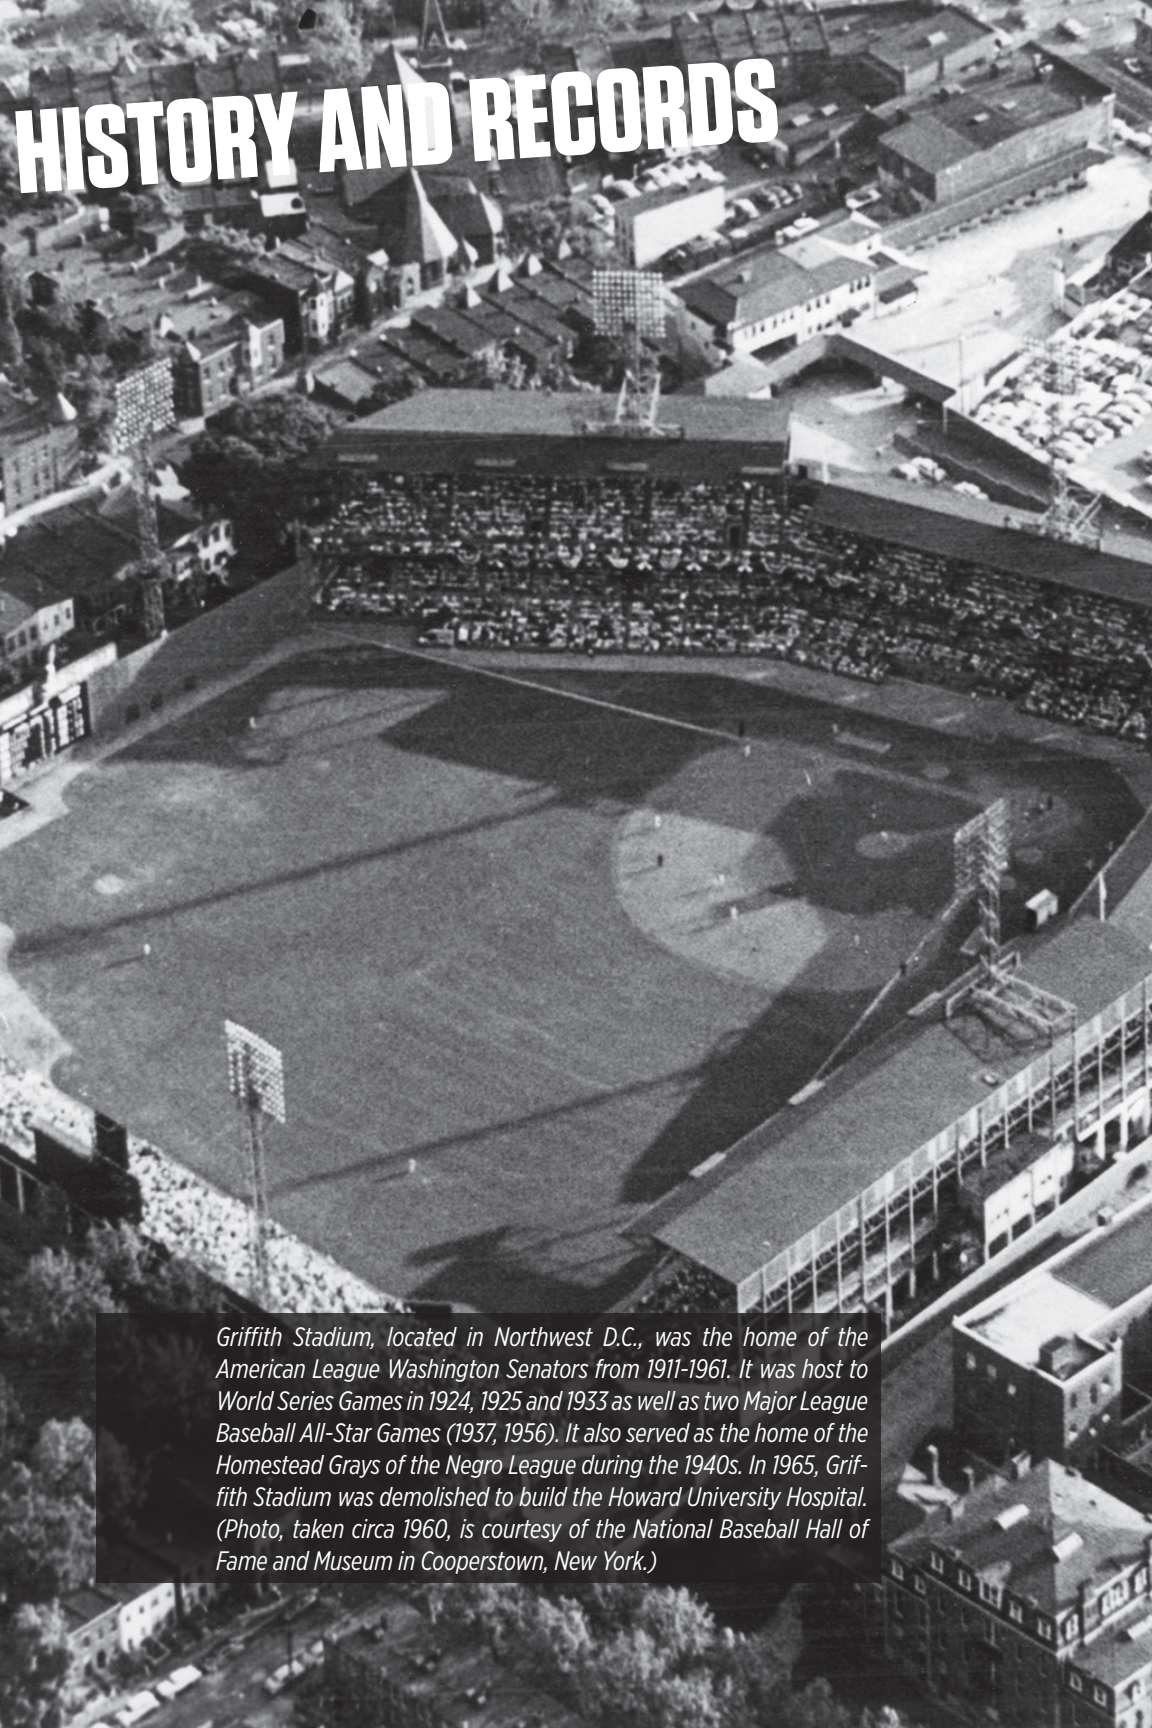
HISTORY AND RECORDS



Griffith Stadium, located in Northwest D.C., was the home of the American League Washington Senators from 1911-1961. It was host to World Series Games in 1924, 1925 and 1933 as well as two Major League Baseball All-Star Games (1937, 1956). It also served as the home of the Homestead Grays of the Negro League during the 1940s. In 1965, Griffith Stadium was demolished to build the Howard University Hospital. BASEBALL RETURNS TO THE NATION'S CAPITAL - 2004

On Wednesday, Sept. 29, 2004, Major League Baseball selected the Washington, D.C. proposal as its choice for relocation of the Montreal Expos. Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig made the announcement. Relocation of the club was subject to certain contingencies, including a formal vote of ownership at the next owners' meeting in November and passage of legislation by the District of Columbia Council to provide for financing and construction of a ballpark on the Anacostia River waterfront in Southeast Washington. MLB also provided the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida the required notice of MLB's intent to move forward with relocating the team.

The D.C. agreement also included financing for the refurbishing of RFK Stadium, where the Washington, D.C. franchise played through the 2007 campaign.

"Washington, D.C., as our nation's capital, is one of the world's most important cities and Major League Baseball is gratified at the skill and perseverance shown by (then) Mayor Anthony Williams throughout this long process," Selig said. "There has been tremendous growth in the Washington, D.C. area over the last 33 years and we in Major League Baseball believe that baseball will be welcomed there and will be a great success."

Selig also said: "I would like to thank the representatives who worked on behalf of Northern Virginia, Norfolk, Va., Las Vegas, Nev., Portland, Ore., Monterrey, Mexico and others for devoting so much time and energy in their attempts to bring a Major League Baseball team to their communities."

At the time, Washington, D.C. was the largest market in the country in terms of population (5.4 million) and television market size (eighth) without a Major League Baseball team.

Even though Washington, D.C. baseball has a long history with the American League, the team plays in the National League East Division, which in fact marks a return to its baseball roots. The first Washington, D.C. franchise joined the National League in 1886 and was part of the NL, except for a two-year hiatus in 1890-91, until the National League contracted Washington and three other franchises in 1900.

But a year later, Ban Johnson organized the American League and included Washington, D.C. as one of its charter franchises. Although the original Senators were mostly mediocre throughout their history, they fielded one of the game's greatest all-time pitchers, Walter "Big Train" Johnson, and made three trips to the World Series, winning it in 1924 in a seven-game series against the New York Giants. In 1925, the Senators lost in seven games to Pittsburgh and lost in five games to the Giants in 1933.

The second incarnation of the Senators came in 1961 in the form of an expansion team. Like its predecessor, the Senators often finished in the second division and had only one winning season in their 11-year history. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

THE HISTORY OF BASEBALL IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

When the first professional baseball games were played in the nation's capital, the enduring symbol of freedom in America - the Statue of Liberty - was still two years away from being dedicated. There were 38 states in the Union and what would become the State of Oklahoma had yet to be settled. More than seven decades had passed since Washington, D.C. became the capital of the United States and baseball was quickly evolving into the National Pastime.

A Washington team was admitted to the National League in 1885 and played during the League's 10th professional season in 1886. Washington played 12 years in the National League - 1886-89 and 1892-99 - but was part of a four-team contraction in 1900 as the National League went from 12 franchises to eight.

Later that same year, former Western League president Ban Johnson was organizing a second Major League to compete with the National League and announced plans to include a franchise in the nation's capital. The new league was called the American League and began play in 1901.

This Washington franchise was awarded to James Manning and Detroit businessman Fred Postal. Manning retired later that year and Tom Loftus replaced him as the club's primary executive. The Senators finished in sixth place in 1901 with a 61-72 mark and would eventually be sold to an ownership group including Thomas C. Noyes, Benjamin Minor and Harry Rapley, among others.

The first of two individual tragedies struck the organization in only its third season as the Senators lost a key figure when future Hall of Fame outfielder Ed Delahanty was tragically killed in July 1903, when he was swept over Niagara Falls. Delahanty was the reigning American League batting champion and his sudden death took its toll on the team as the Senators finished the campaign with a 43-94 mark.

Effective for the 1905 campaign, the team name was changed to Nationals. Newspaper accounts used the names Senators and Nationals interchangeably for the next five decades.

While it took 12 years before the Nationals finished a season with a winning record, the signing of 20-year-old pitcher Walter Johnson in 1907 would signify a key moment in the franchise's history. Under first-year manager Clark Griffith, the 1912 Washington club posted a 91-61 mark and ended up in second place, 14 games behind the eventual World Champion Boston Red Sox.

Johnson appeared in a remarkable 50 games that year - 37 as a starter - and went 33-12 with a league-leading 1.39 ERA and 303 strikeouts. The following year he was even better as he led the Nationals to their second consecutive 90-win season. The "Big Train" went 36-7 with 11 shutouts and a 1.14 ERA, which still stands today as one of the lowest ERAs by a starting pitcher in a single season.

In 1912, 40-year-old team president Thomas C. Noyes fell ill to pneumonia and eventually succumbed to the disease. Noyes had been instrumental in the franchise's improvements since he took over and was replaced as team president by Minor, a prominent Washington attorney. Minor, unable to devote the necessary time to the club, subsequently sold the controlling interest to Griffith and Philadelphia businessman William Richardson in 1919.

Following a 75-78 season in 1923, Griffith made a controversial decision by appointing 27-year-old second baseman Stanley "Bucky" Harris as field manager. Harris was the fifth manager in the previous five seasons for the Nationals, but he guided one of the great reversals in baseball history as the Nationals won more games in 1924 than ever before, 92, and captured their first American League pennant.

In the 1924 World Series, the Nationals took on famed manager John McGraw and the New York Giants. The Series was one of the closest in history as four games were decided by a single run, including the deciding Game Seven. On the strength of Walter Johnson's four innings of relief pitching - on two days' rest - and the series-clinching hit by Earl McNeeley in the bottom of the 12th inning, the Nationals won their first and only World Series Championship.

United States President Calvin Coolidge, who threw out the ceremonial first pitch on three occasions during the series, paid tribute to the hometown victors immediately following the triumph:

> "I have only the heartiest praise to bestow upon the individual players of both teams. Naturally, in Washington, we were pleased to see Walter Johnson finish the final game, pitching for our home team. Everybody was pleased to see him come back at the close of the last game. The three contests I witnessed maintained throughout a high degree of skill, and every evidence of high-class sportsmanship which will bring to every observer an increased respect and confidence in our national game."

The following year, Harris once again led the Nationals to a record regular season finish as they posted 96 wins and clinched a second-straight American League pennant. Their second trip to the World Series was just as close, but this time they came up short in a seven-game series to the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Senators had a 7-6 lead entering the bottom of the eighth in Game Seven, but could not hold it as the Pirates scored three runs in the inning off Johnson and held on to clinch the series victory.

Johnson concluded his amazing 21-year playing career with the Nationals in 1927 with career totals of 417-279, a 2.36 ERA, 3,508 strikeouts and a big league-record 110 shutouts. He was among the first class of inductees into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y., in 1936.

The "Big Train" was not gone from the Washington scene long, as Griffith brought him back to replace Harris as the Nationals' manager in 1929. Despite posting three straight 90-win seasons, Johnson was removed from his post after the 1932 season and replaced by Joe Cronin, the team's 26-year-old shortstop.

Cronin's first season with the Nationals produced the franchise's best regular season mark ever at 99-53 and its third American League pennant. Washington again faced the New York Giants in the Fall Classic but fell in five games to a team led by the pitching of Carl Hubbell (20 IP, 0 ER) and the hitting of Mel Ott, who clinched the series for New York with a 10th-inning homer in Game Five.

The Nationals franchise then fell on hard times. Washington won just 66 games in '34 and the team posted only two more winning seasons over the next 25 years. The team name was officially changed to Senators for the '56 campaign.

Calvin Griffith, who became team president after his father's death in 1955, was granted permission to seek relocation in Sept. 1960, and an announcement was made in Oct. 1960 that the Senators were moving to Minneapolis, Minn.

At that time, the American League announced plans to expand by two teams for the 1961 season. One team would be located in Los Angeles and the other in Washington, D.C.

The expansion Senators fared no better than their predecessors, as they lost at least 100 games in each of their first four seasons. In 1964, the Senators acquired five players in a deal with the Los Angeles Dodgers for pitcher Claude Osteen. One of those five players was slugging outfielder and the 1960 National League Rookie of the Year, Frank Howard.

An imposing presence at 6-7, 250 lbs., Howard brought a much-needed offensive punch to the Senators lineup and the Senators win total increased in each of his first three seasons in Washington. After struggling again in 1968, new team president Robert Short brought in Hall of Fame outfielder Ted Williams as the new manager of the Senators.

Howard and his teammates responded to the "Splendid Splinter" during his rookie managerial campaign as Washington's win total improved 21 games to 86 in 1969. It was also Howard's best year in the Majors, as he batted .296 with 48 home runs, 111 RBI and 111 runs scored and finished fourth in the balloting for American League Most Valuable Player.

Unfortunately, the team was unable to build upon their success in '69. The Senators lost 92 games in '70 and 96 in '71. On Sept. 21, 1971, owners approved the transfer of the Senators to Arlington, Tex., where the franchise became the Texas Rangers.

After 71 years in the American League and nearly 100 since the debut of professional baseball in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., hosted its "final" regular season game on Sept. 30, 1971 at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium. The Senators moved after the 1971 season and Washington, D.C. was without Major League Baseball until 2005.

THE CATCH

Who made the most famous catch in the history of the World Series? Some might reference Willie Mays' over-the-shoulder catch in '54, but when considering intrigue, it is tough to top Sam Rice's catch in Game 3 of the 1925 World Series against the Pirates.

On Oct. 10, 1925, Rice (HOF '63) was patrolling Griffith Stadium's right field for the AL Nationals. In the eighth inning, Rice made a dynamic catch of a would-be Earl Smith game-tying home run. Upon making the catch, Rice toppled over the fence and disappeared from sight. When Rice reappeared and showed the ball, umpires ruled that the catch had been made on the field of play and that Smith was out.

After the game, Rice was coy about his heroic catch. He later turned down numerous requests for interviews, some for money. Rice never disclosed any information about the catch. Instead, he wrote a letter that was opened only after his death in 1974. The contents of the letter said, "At no time did I lose possession of the ball." Washington eventually lost the Series, however, in seven games.

May 19, 1918	Washington defeats Cleveland, 1-0 in 18 innings, in the first Sunday baseball game played in Washington, D.C. Reportedly, a crowd of more than 15,000 are in attendance at American League Base Ball Park.

NAME GAME

At a ceremony held Nov. 22, 2004 in the historic Main Hall at Union Station, (then) team president Tony Tavares announced the new Washington MLB franchise would be named the Washington Nationals and the color scheme would consist of red, white and blue.

The Nationals moniker had previously served two other Washington baseball franchises. A team called the Nationals first played in the District during the 1870s and 1880s, and a second American League team played at Griffith Stadium from 1901 until 1956. Owner Calvin Griffith then officially changed Washington's name to Senators for the 1957 season.

The name was selected based on an evaluation of a myriad of factors, including data collected through local focus groups and other forms of research.

Nov. 1, 2013 ..... Matt Williams is named the fifth full-time manager of the Washington Nationals.
Dec. 2, 2013 ..... Mike Rizzo fortifies the Nationals starting pitching rotation, acquiring Doug Fister from the Detroit Tigers in exchange for Ian Krol, Steve Lombardozzi and Robbie Ray.

March 30, 2014 ..... The Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy opens in Southeast Washington, D.C.
June 24, 2014 ..... Ryan Zimmerman mercifully hits a two-run HR in the 16th inning to lift Washington past the Brewers, 4-3, at Miller Park in the longest game (by innings) in Nationals (2005-pres.) history at the time. Zimmerman's first career extra-inning HR is made possible by a seven-reliever collaboration that lasted 10.0 scoreless innings. Washington's defense turns three double plays and individually, shortstop Ian Desmond makes two dazzling 6-3 putouts in the 5.5 hole, while Denard Span made a game-saving catch at the wall in the 14th. Anthony Rendon's 12th HR, a solo shot in the eighth, ties the score at 2-2 and ultimately sends the game to extra innings.

Aug. 12-21, 2014 ..... The Nationals post a 10-game winning streak, tied for the longest in Nationals history (2005-present). The 10-game streak ties the longest in MLB in 2014 and featured five walk-off victories.

At 5 hours, 34 minutes, the 14-inning marathon was the longest game (by time) in the 10-year history of the Washington Nationals at that point.

Sept. 28, 2014 ..... In Washington's season-ending 1-0 home win over the Marlins, Jordan Zimmermann walks one and strikes out 10 while tossing not only the first no-hitter in Nationals history, but the first tossed in the nation's capital since AL Nationals Bobby Burke turned the trick on Aug. 31, 1931 vs. Boston. Steven Souza Jr.'s miraculous diving catch on deep line drive to left field by Christian Yelich secures Zimmermann's no-hitter. WASHINGTON, D.C. BALLPARKS

Pro baseball teams were formed in our nation's capital beginning in the early 1870s and those franchises played their games in ballparks commonly known as Swampoodle Grounds, Capitol Grounds and Boundary Field.

In 1892, the Washington Senators joined the expanding National League and began playing their home games at a site that would host professional baseball games into the early 1960s. From 1892-99, the Senators played at National Park, which had a seating capacity of approximately 6,500. Although never finishing above sixth place, the team drew fairly well, including more than 200,000 fans in 1896.

When the National League contracted from 12 franchises to eight following the 1899 season, the team was disbanded. However, it would only be two seasons before a professional team occupied that site again.

During those two years, former Western League president Ban Johnson was working to put together a second Major League to rival the NL. In 1901, the American League began play with eight franchises, including the Washington Nationals.

This franchise would play its home games on the same site as the previous National League Washington team, but the ballpark was appropriately renamed American League Base Ball Park and the capacity was expanded to nearly 10,000.

On March 17, 1911, tragedy struck the American League Base Ball Park. The all-wooden ballpark and four surrounding buildings were completely destroyed by a fire started by a plumber's blow lamp and a strong wind. American League Base Ball Park could not be saved as plumbers working on the park's drain pipes had shut off the water supply and by the time firefighters arrived, the grandstand and bleachers were engulfed in flames. At the time, the loss of the ballpark was estimated at $20,000.

Thomas C. Noyes, president of the Washington franchise, gained approval from the Board of Directors to announce that work would begin immediately on a new ballpark with a steel grandstand. With the players at Spring Training and Opening Day less than a month away, crews worked tirelessly to get the ballpark ready for the home opener.

By Opening Day 1911, the grandstands were sufficiently erected for the Nationals to host the Boston Red Sox with President William Howard Taft in attendance. The work on the ballpark continued when the team was on the road and was completed on July 24, 1911 at a final cost of approximately $100,000. Seating capacity was more than 27,000, including a presidential box near the first base dugout.

In 1920, the American League Base Ball Park was renamed Griffith Stadium in recognition of the franchise's owner and president, Clark Griffith. The only major alteration to the ballpark was also made in 1920 as the double-decked stands were extended from the bases to the foul poles.

During the late-1930s and 1940s, Griffith Stadium had another part-time tenant - the famed Homestead Grays of the Negro Leagues. Originally from Pennsylvania, the Grays played half of their games at Forbes Field in Pittsburgh and half at Griffith Stadium when the Washington franchise was on the road. Some of the most revered players in Negro League history played for the Grays, including Josh Gibson, Buck Leonard, Cool Papa Bell and Sam Bankhead, as they won nine Negro League championships.

Griffith Stadium, which also hosted the Major League Baseball All-Star Game in 1937 and 1956 and three World Series in 1924, 1925 and 1933, remained the home of the Washington franchise until it was moved to Minneapolis following the 1960 season.

The expansion Washington Senators played their inaugural season at Griffith Stadium in 1961 before moving into District of Columbia Stadium for the 1962 season.

After having been the site of professional baseball in Washington, D.C., since 1892, the final game at Griffith Stadium was played on Sept. 21, 1961 as the Senators fell to Minnesota, 4-3, before a crowd of 1,498 fans. Griffith Stadium was demolished in 1965 and the land is now utilized by Howard University. Nearly 1,000 of the original seats from Griffith Stadium were moved to a Spring Training facility near Orlando, Fla., Tinker Field.

A federally-owned stadium, District of Columbia Stadium was a new three-tiered, multi-purpose facility constructed near the Potomac River at a cost of approximately $24 million. The Senators signed a 10-year lease on September 29, 1961 with the D.C. Armory Board for the stadium, which had a seating capacity of 45,016.

On April 9, 1962, the Senators played their first regular season game at District of Columbia Stadium. A crowd of 42,143 - including President John F. Kennedy — saw Senators pitcher Bennie Daniels defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-1. Interestingly enough, Daniels suffered the loss at both the final game at Ebbets Field in 1957 and the final game at Griffith Stadium in 1961.

Under the direction of the D.C. Armory Board, the stadium was officially renamed Robert F. Kennedy Memorial Stadium on January 18, 1969.

The 1969 Major League Baseball All-Star Game was the fourth hosted by the Senators and the second at RFK Stadium (also first game in 1962). Despite the American League dropping a 9-3 decision to the National League, Washington fans saw future Hall of Famer Willie McCovey hit a pair of homers and hometown favorite Frank Howard hit one as well.

In 1971, the Senators played their final season at RFK Stadium before moving to Arlington, Tex. The final regular season Major League Baseball game was played at RFK on September 30, 1971. Washington hosted the New York Yankees before a crowd of just 14,460 in a game that was never finished. The Senators were holding on to a 7-5 lead with two outs in the top of the ninth inning when fans rushed the field. The umpiring crew could not clear the field and the game was forfeited to the Yankees, 9-0, per MLB forfeit rules.

RFK Stadium hosted 16 exhibition games involving Major League teams after the Senators moved in 1971. A portion of the proceeds from most of the games was donated to various charities. Attendance at the 16 contests averaged more than 27,600 per game. Following is a listing of those games:

On March 14, 2006, Washington, D.C. Mayor Anthony Williams, the D.C. Sports & Entertainment Commission and the Washington Nationals unveiled plans for a 41,000-seat state-of-the-art baseball stadium located in Southeast D.C. Seven weeks later, on May 4, ground was officially broken on the ballpark site. Washington opened Nationals Park on March 30, 2008 with a 3-2 win over Atlanta, televised nationally on ESPN's Sunday Night Baseball. President George W. Bush threw the ceremonial first pitch, then Ryan Zimmerman led the club to victory with a game-ending solo shot in the ninth inning.

CAPITAL PUNISHER

Frank Howard blasted 237 of his 382 career home runs during his seven-year tenure with the the Senators from 1965-71. Only Ryan Zimmerman (264) has hit more long balls while representing Washington D.C. Bryce Harper is third with 184

"Hondo" came to D.C. on Dec. 4, 1964 via a seven-player trade with the Dodgers that also netted Ken McMullen, Phil Ortega, Dick Nen and Pete Richert in exchange for John Kennedy, Claude Osteen and $100,000.

A love affair between player and town began almost immediately, as teammates, media and fans alike marveled at Howard's tape-measure home runs, many of which taunted cavernous D.C. Stadium's dimensions.

Howard's 172 homer runs from 1967-70 were the most in MLB in that span, as Hall of Famers Harmon Killebrew and Willie McCovey tied for second with just 151.

Howard eventually represented the Senators in four Mid-Summer Classics and led the American League in home runs twice (44 in both 1968 and '70). "The Capital Punisher" also paced the AL in RBI (126) and walks (132) in 1970.

Howard passed away at age 87 on October 30, 2023.

THE TRADITION OF OPENING DAY IN WASHINGTON, D.C.

Each Major League Club has its own unique celebration to mark the opening of the Major League Baseball season, but Opening Day in the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., was always a special and sometimes historic event. Washington, D.C.'s Opening Day tradition dates to April 14, 1910. William Howard Taft, the 27th President of the United States, attended the home opener of the Washington Senators against the Philadelphia Athletics. Numerous other government officials, including Vice President James Sherman, joined President Taft at the ballpark.

An overflow crowd of 12,000 fans—the largest baseball crowd in Washington at that time—gave President Taft a standing ovation as he made his way to his seats on the first-base side. Team president Thomas C. Noyes then took the two managers—Washington's Jimmy McAleer and Philadelphia's legendary Connie Mack—to meet the President.

Just prior to the start of the game, umpire Billy Evans walked over to President Taft's box and presented him with a new baseball. Evans instructed President Taft that he was to throw the ball from his seat in the stands to Senators pitcher Walter Johnson, who was standing at home plate, to officially commence the start of the American League championship season. After giving the ball briefly to First Lady Helen Taft, the President adjusted his gloves and made a good throw to Johnson, who immediately gave the ball to catcher Charles Street to have it secured in a safe place.

President Taft watched the entire game, a 3-0 Washington victory in which Johnson hurled a one-hit, complete-game shutout. After the game, Johnson sent the historic ball to the White House accompanied by a note to President Taft asking for his autograph on the ball. President Taft returned the ball after penning the following on it:

"For Walter Johnson, with the hope that he may continue to be as formidable as in yesterday's game. William H. Taft."

Although President Taft was the first to throw out a ceremonial first pitch, it was not the first time a President of the United States attended a Major League Baseball game. Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd U.S. President, is believed to be the first sitting President to attend a Major League game when he witnessed a NL game between Cincinnati and Washington in June 1892. That wasn't even the first interaction with a professional baseball team as nine years earlier President Chester A. Arthur welcomed the Cleveland franchise of the National League to the White House.

Having the President throw out the ceremonial first pitch at Washington's home opener was such an enormous success—not only in the nation's capital but around the country—that it led to the American League granting Washington permission to open the American League championship season one day before the rest of the League. This action was approved on December 13, 1927, in recognition of the U.S. President throwing out the ceremonial first pitch.

Including President Taft's precedent-setting throw in 1910, 12 different Presidents attended a home opener of the Washington Senators a total of 46 times. The Senators posted a 23-23 mark in home openers with a President present.

President Taft (2-0) and Woodrow Wilson (3-0), the 28th U.S. President, were the only two to never see the Senators lose. The only U.S. Presidents never to see Washington win a home opener were Lyndon Johnson (0-3), Richard Nixon (0-2) and Barack Obama (0-1). Following is the breakdown of Washington's record on Opening Day, listed by President:

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES	WASHINGTON'S RECORD ON OPENING DAY
Woodrow Wilson (D)	3-0 (1.000)
William Howard Taft (R)	2-0 (1.000)
George W. Bush (R)	2-0 (1.000)
Calvin Coolidge (R)	3-1 (.750)
Warren Harding (R)	2-1 (.667)
Dwight Eisenhower (R)	4-3 (.571)
Franklin Roosevelt (D)	4-4 (.500)
Harry Truman (D)	3-4 (.429)
John F. Kennedy (D)	1-2 (.333)
Herbert Hoover (R)	1-3 (.250)
Barack Obama (D)	0-1 (.000)
Richard Nixon (R)	0-2 (.000)
Lyndon Johnson (D)	0-3 (.000)
TOTAL	25-24 (.510) | Democrats 11-14 (.440), Republicans 14-10 (.583)

Prior to the Senators move to Texas in 1972, each President since Taft was in attendance for a Washington Senators home opener at least once. Several Presidents had to miss on occasion, including President Taft in 1912 because of the sinking of the Titanic and President Wilson in 1918 and 1919 because of World War I.

Since 1972, the tradition of Presidents and Opening Day has continued in other Major League cities. The only three Presidents to never throw out a ceremonial first pitch at an Opening Day game were Jimmy Carter, Joe Biden and Donald Trump. President George W. Bush threw out the ceremonial first pitch at RFK Stadium on April 14, 2005 to usher the return of baseball to the nation's capital, then again to open Nationals Park on March 30, 2008. President Barack Obama continued the tradition on April 5, 2010, throwing out the first pitch prior to the Nationals' season opener vs. Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, D.C. AND THE WORLD SERIES (PAGES 9-12 FOR DETAILED LOOK AT 2019 WORLD SERIES)

Washington, D.C. has hosted four World Series, with the original Washington (AL) Nationals claiming the 1924 World Championship and the 2019 Washington Nationals winning the 2019 World Series. Washington needed seven games to top heavy favorites in both Fall Classics. The 1924 New York Giants were appearing in their eighth World Series in 14 seasons and were managed by John McGraw. The Nationals won despite Walter Johnson losing each of his first two starts. However, Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings as Johnson came out of the bullpen to earn the win in Game 7. The 1924 World Series remains the second of only five World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive seventh game.

The Washington (AL) Nationals would go on to play in two more Fall Classics, losing both. As defending World Champions in 1925, the Nationals won 92 games and claimed another AL Pennant, but lost to Pittsburgh in seven games. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson squandered a 4-0 lead after the first inning and eventually suffered the loss. The New York Giants provided payback for the 1924 Series by claiming the 1933 World Series over the AL Nationals in five games.

POSTSEASON HISTORY (AL NATIONALS)

1924

The AL Nationals claim their first of three AL pennants and lone World Championship. The AL Nationals finished the regular season with a 92-62 (.597) mark and a 2.0-game lead over the second-place Yankees (89-63). The AL Nationals won a memorable seven-game World Series over the heavily favored New York Giants, who were competing in their eighth Fall Classic in 14 seasons. The series is best remembered for Game 7. The Giants led, 3-1, in the eighth, but Freddie Lindstrom's critical error on a routine grounder allowed the AL Nationals to send the game to extra innings. Washington won, 4-3, in 12 innings with Walter Johnson earning the win with 4.0 scoreless innings of relief. Earl McNeely's RBI double with one out in the 12th plated Muddy Reul, who had doubled earlier in the decisive inning that included a pair of Giants errors. While pitching in a starting role, Walter Johnson took the loss in both Game 1 and Game 5. Three of Washington's four wins in the Fall Classic were of the one-run variety. The 1924 World Series remains one of only six World Series to be decided in extra innings of the decisive seventh game.

As defending World Champions in 1925, the AL Nationals won 92 games and claimed another AL flag, but lost to Pittsburgh in a seven-game Fall Classic. The Pirates topped the Nationals, 9-7, in Game 7 as Walter Johnson and the AL Nationals squandered a 4-0 first-inning lead and eventually suffered the loss. In Game 3, Sam Rice made the most intriguing catch in World Series history. Rice was patrolling Griffith Stadium's right field for the AL Nationals when, in the eighth inning, he made a dynamic catch of a would-be Earl Smith game-tying homer. Rice toppled over the fence in doing so and disappeared from sight. When Rice reappeared and showed the ball, umpires ruled he had successfully made the catch. Following the game, Rice was coy about the catch and penned a letter that was opened only after his death in 1974. The letter simply said, "at no time did I lose possession of the ball."

The '33 AL Nationals earned a Postseason berth, going an MLB-best 99-53 (.651) and claiming the AL Championship by 7.0 games over the 91-win Yankees. Washington's pitching staff included a pair of 20-game winners: General Crowder (24 wins) and Earl Whitehill (22). However, the heavily favored AL Nationals struggled offensively in the Fall Classic, plating two or fewer runs thrice and hitting a collective .214 with just two home runs in five games. Mel Ott's solo shot in the top of the 10th snapped a 3-3 tie as the Giants claimed both Game 5 and the World Championship.

In a season marred by a six-plus week labor stoppage, the Montreal Expos record a 30-23 (.566) mark in the season's second half to earn Montreal's lone Postseason berth in 36 National League seasons. The Expos finished 0.5-game ahead of the Cardinals in the second-half standings (Montreal played one extra game). Montreal matched up against the Phillies in the NLDS and won a decisive Game 5 as Steve Rogers tossed a six-hit shutout to outperform Steve Carlton for the second time in the series. The Expos' dreams of hosting the first World Series games outside of the United States were dashed, however, as Rick Monday hit a ninth-inning solo shot off Rogers to provide the Dodgers a 2-1 win in Game 5 of the NLCS. To this day, October 19 is still referred to as "Blue Monday" in Montreal.

Eight years after landing in D.C., the Washington Nationals claimed their first Postseason berth by winning the NL East with a 98-64 record. En route to posting the 98 victories and the best winning percentage (.605) in MLB, the Nationals became the first baseball team representing the nation's capital to reach the Postseason since the AL Nationals won the American League pennant in 1933. In the NLDS, the Nationals squared off against the defending World Champion St. Louis Cardinals, who survived MLB's first one-game Wild Card playoff game at Turner Field thanks to a controversial infield fly ruling. Washington stole Game 1 behind rookie Tyler Moore's two-run pinch-hit single, which erased a 2-1 deficit with two outs in the eighth inning. The October-tested Cardinals rebounded in Games 2 and 3 with resounding victories. Game 4 rendered one of the great Postseason games in D.C. history when, with the game tied 1-1, Jayson Werth led off the bottom of the ninth with a game-ending homer that came on the 13th pitch of his epic at-bat. The collective euphoria following Werth's bolt evaporated just 24 hours later as the Nationals squandered 6-0 (after three innings) and 7-5 (after eight innings) leads before losing the decisive contest, 9-7.

For the second time in three years, the Washington Nationals were crowned National League East Division champions, recording the best record in the National League at 96-66. The Nationals finished the season 17.0 games ahead of the second-place Braves and Mets. In the NLDS, Washington faced off against San Francisco, who survived a one-game Wild Card playoff, topping Pittsburgh in the Steel City. The Nationals dropped the first two games at home, including an 18-inning affair that would turn out to be the longest Postseason game in MLB history at the time. Brandon Belt's solo home run in the 18th gave the Giants the 2-1 lead for good. Washington won Game 3 thanks to a three-run seventh inning in which they plated two runs on a throwing error by Madison Bumgarner. In Game 4, the Giants scored the eventual go-ahead run in the seventh inning when Aaron Barrett's 2-1 pitch skipped away from Wilson Ramos, allowing Joe Panik to score. Bryce Harper clubbed three home runs in the series, giving him four career Postseason homers before the age of 22, joining Andruw Jones, Miguel Cabrera and Mickey Mantle as the only players in baseball history to do so.

In his first season at the helm, Dusty Baker led the Washington Nationals to their third National League East Division title in the last five years. The 2016 Nationals did so with a balanced attack and a steady approach, with an average of 15.8 wins per month and a 95-67 (.586) final regular-season record, the second-best mark in the National League (Chicago Cubs: 103-58, .640) and tied with the Texas Rangers for the second-best record in Major League Baseball. Washington faced off against the National League West Division champion Los Angeles Dodgers in the NLDS. Jose Lobaton's three-run home run in the fourth inning of Game 2 propelled the Nationals to the 5-2 win, evening the series , 1-1. In Game 3, Washington scored four runs in both the third and ninth innings to take control of the series with an 8-3 win. In Game 4, Postseason veteran Chase Utley capped a back-and-forth affair with an RBI-single in the bottom of the eighth to put the Dodgers ahead, 5-4, and in Game 5, Kenley Jansen (2.1 IP, H, 4 BB, 4 SO) and Clayton Kershaw (SV, 0.2 IP, SO) came out of the bullpen to shut down the Nationals in the final three innings and claim the series. Daniel Murphy reached base safely in every game of the NLDS, running his streak to 19 straight Postseason games. The 19-game Postseason on-base streak is the second-longest to start a Postseason career in MLB history behind Boog Powell (25 games, 1966-71).

The Washington Nationals claimed their second consecutive National League East title and fourth in the last six years. Their 97-65 (.599) regular-season record was the second-best mark in the National League (Los Angeles Dodgers: 104-58, .642) and the fourth-best record in all of Major League Baseball. At 50-31 (.617), the Nationals owned the best road record in the NL, as well as a new franchise record (Nationals/Expos) for road wins in a single season (50). The 50 road wins were the most for any National League team since the 2011 Philadelphia Phillies also went 50-31. Washington took over sole possession of first on April 18 and did not relinquish it for the remainder of the season, ultimately winning the division by a 20.0-game margin. The Nationals faced off against the National League Central division champion Chicago Cubs. After dropping Game 1, the Nationals topped the Cubs, 6-3, in dramatic fashion in Game 2. Trailing 3-1 in the eighth inning, Bryce Harper clubbed a two-run home run to tie the game at 3-3 and three batters later, Ryan Zimmerman put Washington ahead 6-3 with a towering three-run home run. Facing defeat in Game 4, Stephen Strasburg pushed aside a virus that had made him ill for much of the week to rack up 12 strikeouts (re-setting his own Postseason franchise record (Nationals/Expos) for single-game strikeouts) over 7.0 scoreless innings as the Nationals won, 5-0. A dramatic back-and-forth affair in Game 5 eventually led to the 9-8 Cubs victory, advancing them to the 2017 National League Championship Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

WASHINGTON, D.C. AND THE NO-HITTER

Throughout the history of baseball in the nation's capital, four pitchers have accomplished the feat of completing a no-hitter. Walter Johnson, Bobby Burke, Jordan Zimmermann and Max Scherzer made their mark in D.C. baseball history with performances detailed below.

Walter Johnson

Bothered by what fans and media would later learn to be a "sore arm," Walter Johnson (H.O.F. 1936) tossed the only no-hitter of his Hall of Fame career on July 1, 1920 in a 1-0 win over the Boston Red Sox. Johnson struck out 10 batters and faced just one over the minimum due to a Bucky Harris' error, allowing Boston's Harry Hooper to reach base in the seventh inning. With two outs in the ninth inning, Hooper again stepped to the plate. He connected on a hard ground ball down the first-base line that many thought would be a base hit. Nationals first baseman Joe Judge made a leaping stab and threw to a covering Walter Johnson to record the final out. Writer Denman Thompson wrote in The Evening Star the following day that Johnson:

> "...earned it solely on the strength of his superb hurling. It is doubtful if Walter ever displayed more speed. He did not depend upon his fast ball entirely. He used plenty of curves and also resorted to slow balls upon occasion, but when he chose to he lined the ball over the plate with such velocity that it was physically impossible for a human to gage its flight."

Bobby Burke

With Walter Johnson patrolling the dugout as Manager of the 1931 Nationals, Bobby Burke recorded the second no-hitter in D.C. baseball history on August 8th, 1931 in a 5-0 win over the visiting Boston Red Sox at Griffith Stadium in Washington, D.C. The 24-year-old lefty struck out eight batters, walking five, en route to the accomplishment. Remarkably, this was Burke's first start for the Nationals in more than a month, as he appeared in six games out of the bullpen in between starts. Burke's no-hitter would be the last one thrown by a D.C. ballplayer until Jordan Zimmermann accomplished the feat more than 83 years later. Manager Walter Johnson told the media following Burke's no hitter:

> "Before I sent Burke into the game, I told him to cut loose...He gained a lot of confidence in those early innings when the Red Sox started missing those third strikes. He was throwing the last pitch over there as if it was the first one and he soon found out he was getting away with it, like we told him he would." - The Washington Post, Aug. 10, 1931

WASHINGTON, D.C. AND THE NO-HITTER

Jordan Zimmermann

On the final day of the 2014 National League East Division championship season, Jordan Zimmermann took the hill against Miami's Henderson Alvarez. Coincidentally, Alvarez tossed a no-hitter on the final day of the 2013 season for the Marlins. Zimmermann was his calm, efficient self, striking out 10 batters while walking just one, Justin Bour, on a 3-2 pitch that home plate umpire Alan Porter determined was just a bit low. Alvarez also spun a gem of his own, with the lone run of the game coming on an Ian Desmond solo home run into the Miami bullpen. Zimmermann's feat would have never materialized had it not been for Steven Souza Jr.'s miraculous play on the final out. His diving, over-the-shoulder catch of a line drive off the bat of Christian Yelich made an out of what was certain to be an extra-base hit. In a moment of pure emotion not usually shown by the stoic Zimmermann, he dropped his head, put his hands on his hips and would later tell the media, he thought "Double. No-doubt double," as the ball carried to deep left field. To make the catch, Souza Jr. dove backward, almost parallel to the ground, in an attempt to secure the ball. When he fell to the ground and reached his glove to the sky, Zimmermann thrust his right arm in the air as the crowd at Nationals Park erupted and the dugout emptied onto the field, mobbing Zimmermann and Souza Jr.

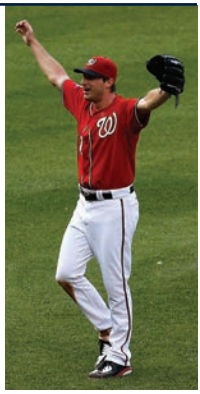
Max Scherzer



Coming off one of the most dominant pitching performances in Nationals history (2005-present), Max Scherzer took the hill at Nationals Park on June 20, 2015 looking to pick up where he left off. In his previous start, Scherzer struck out a then-Nationals-record and career-best 16 Milwaukee Brewers, while allowing just one hit (a Carlos Gomez flare to right field) in 9.0 shutout innings on June 14 at Miller Park. With a severe rain storm in the evening forecast for the Metro D.C. area, Scherzer took the mound at 4:05 p.m. and was perfect through 8.2 innings against a potent Pittsburgh Pirates lineup, striking out 10 batters along the way. With two outs in the top of the ninth inning, Pirates manager Clint Hurdle sent pinch hitter Jose Tabata to the plate. A battle ensued, with Tabata quickly down 0-2 before working the count to 2-2. With Scherzer on the doorstep of history, Tabata managed to foul off three straight pitches before a slider from Scherzer ran in and hit him on the left elbow. Replays would spark debate as to whether or not Tabata attempted to move out of the way of the pitch, but Scherzer quickly moved on, telling the media: "You just focus on what you can do next. Just move on to the next hitter and go after Harrison, and do everything you can do and just pound him with fastballs. I was able to collect that final out." Indeed, one batter later Scherzer gathered himself and coaxed Josh Harrison into hitting a high fly ball to deep left field that settled into the glove of rookie Michael A. Taylor, completing the first no-hitter of Scherzer's career.

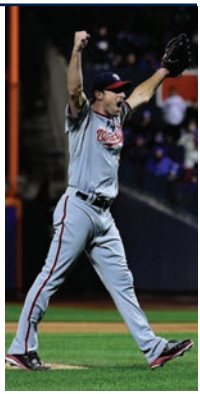
Max Scherzer



With the 2015 season coming to a close, and once again after carrying a no-hitter through 7.1 innings in his previous outing, Max Scherzer took the hill for the final start of his inaugural season in Washington, D.C., vs. the 2015 National League East Division Champion New York Mets. In the second game of a doubleheader, Scherzer turned in one of the most dominant pitching performances in Major League history. Becoming just the sixth pitcher in MLB history to throw two no-hitters in the same season (including the postseason), Scherzer joined Johnny Vander Meer (1938), Allie Reynolds (1951), Virgil Trucks (1952), Nolan Ryan (1973) and Roy Halladay (2010). Scherzer was the first, however, to throw no-hitters against two postseason-bound teams in the same season, and the first to accomplish the dual feats without walking a single batter in either outing. Just one baserunner, catcher Kevin Plawecki, was able to reach base, due to a fielding error by third baseman Yunel Escobar. When his masterpiece was complete, Scherzer struck out a then-Nationals record (2005-present) and new career-best 17 batters, including a franchise record (Nationals/Expos) nine consecutive batters from the sixth to the ninth inning. According to the Elias Sports Bureau, Scherzer's 17 strikeouts tied Nolan Ryan (7/15/73 vs. DET) for the MLB record for strikeouts in a no-hitter. When asked about his place in Major League Baseball history, Scherzer said he was speechless. "You go out there and accomplish as much as you can," he said. "When you start talking about that (kind of history), you don't have words for it."

WASHINGTON, D.C. AND THE ALL-STAR GAME

JULY 7, 1937

The 1937 Midsummer Classic, which was the fifth Major League Baseball All-Star Game, was played on July 7th at Griffith Stadium. President Franklin D. Roosevelt was in attendance for the contest, marking the first All-Star Game to be played in front of a sitting President. Six future Presidents would later follow Roosevelt's lead, combining for eight overall All-Star appearances. The American League won the game, 8-3, improving to 4-1 overall in the five games. In the bottom of the third inning, Cleveland's Earl Averill hit a line drive off the foot of St. Louis Cardinals pitcher Dizzy Dean. Dean suffered a fractured toe and never fully recovered, pitching in just 42 games over the next four seasons. The AL started the scoring with two runs in the bottom of the third inning on a two-run home run by Hall of Famer Lou Gehrig. The homer drove home his Yankees teammate and fellow Hall of Famer Joe DiMaggio. After the NL cut the lead to 2-1 in the top of the fourth, the AL answered with three more runs of its own in the bottom of the inning and never looked back. The game featured 21 future Hall of Famers, including Earl Averill, Joe Cronin, Dizzy Dean, Bill Dickey, Joe DiMaggio, Rick Ferrell, Jimmie Foxx, Lou Gehrig, Charlie Gehringer, Lefty Gomez, Hank Greenberg, Lefty Grove, Gabby Hartnett, Billy Herman, Carl Hubbell, Ernie Lombardi, Joe Medwick, Johnny Mize, Mel Ott, Arky Vaughan and Paul Waner.

JULY 10, 1956

The 1956 Midsummer Classic returned to Griffith Stadium for a second time to host the 23rd All-Star Game. The National League, using just three pitchers for the fourth time in All-Star history, defeated the American League, 7-3, for their second consecutive victory and sixth in seven years. The game was highlighted by home runs from four of the greatest players to ever play the game: Willie Mays and Stan Musial for the NL and Ted Williams and Mickey Mantle for the AL. After the NL built a 5-0 lead, Williams and Mantle hit back-to-back homers in the bottom of the sixth inning to make it a 5-3 game, but that was as close as the AL would get. Musial responded with his solo home run in the top of the seventh and his Cardinals teammate Ken Boyer made one outstanding defensive play after another to go along with his three hits to help the NL maintain the lead. The back-to-back homers by Williams and Mantle marked the second such instance, and one of five overall in All-Star history. NL starting pitcher Bob Friend picked up the victory after tossing three scoreless innings with three strikeouts. The game featured 18 Hall of Famers, including Hank Aaron, Ernie Banks, Yogi Berra, Roy Campanella, Whitey Ford, Nellie Fox, Al Kaline, George Kell, Mickey Mantle, Eddie Mathews, Willie Mays, Stan Musial, Robin Roberts, Frank Robinson, Duke Snider, Warren Spahn, Ted Williams and Early Wynn.

The first of two All-Star games in 1962 was hosted at D.C. Stadium, marking the third time the Midsummer classic was held in the nation's capital and the first time at the venue. President John F. Kennedy threw out the ceremonial first pitch. The NL topped the AL, 3-1, winning its 11th game in its last 15 attempts. Los Angeles Dodgers shortstop Maury Wills went 1-for-1 with two runs scored and a stolen base to capture the Arch Ward Trophy in the first year it was given to the game's Most Valuable Player. Hall of Famer Roberto Clemente recorded three of the NL's eight hits while the AL scattered just four hits in the game with their lone run coming on a Roger Maris sacrifice fly to score Rich Rollins. National League starting pitcher Don Drysdale threw three scoreless innings before handing the ball to his rival, Juan Marichal of the Giants, who picked up the win with two scoreless innings. The game featured 18 Hall of Famers, including Hank Aaron, Luis Aparicio, Riche Ashburn, Ernie Banks, Jim Bunning, Orlando Cepeda, Roberto Clemente, Don Drysdale, Bob Gibson, Sandy Koufax, Mickey Mantle, Juan Marichal, Willie Mays, Bill Mazeroski, Stan Musial, Brooks Robinson, Warren Spahn and Hoyt Wilhelm.

RFK Stadium played host to the first of two All-Star Games in history to be played on July 23rd. The game was originally scheduled for the night of July 22nd, but rain forced its postponement to the afternoon of the 23rd. The 40th Midsummer Classic was won by the National League, 9-3, marking the seventh consecutive victory for the Senior Circuit. Reds catcher Johnny Bench hit a two-run home run in the second inning to extend the NL lead to 3-0. The hometown hero, Frank Howard, put the AL on the board in the second inning with a solo home run. The NL answered back with five runs in the top of the third, highlighted by Willie McCovey's two-run homer and back-to-back doubles by Steve Millan and pitcher Steve Carlton. 89TH MLB ALL-STAR GAME // JULY 2018

Nationals Park, Washington D.C., Virginia and Maryland were at the center of the baseball universe in July of 2018, serving as the host of the 89th Major League Baseball All-Star Game - the fifth All-Star Game held in D.C. (2018, 1969, 1962, 1956, 1937).

89TH ALL-STAR GAME PRESENTED BY MASTERCARD

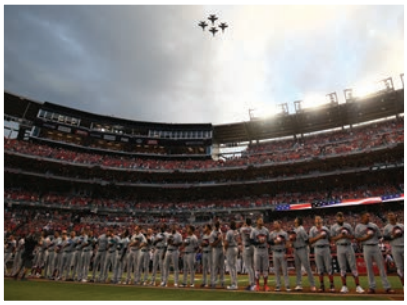
The American League topped the National League, 8-6, in 10 innings. Tied at 2-2 heading to the top of the eighth inning, the two clubs combined to plate 10 runs in a thrilling final three innings. Seattle's Jean Segura clubbed a three-run home run in the top half of the eighth inning, while Milwaukee's Christian Yelich hit a solo homer and Cincinnati's Scooter Gennett hit a game-tying two-run shot in the bottom half. Alex Bregman of the Houston Astros was awarded the Ted Williams Most Valuable Player Award presented by Chevrolet after leading off the 10th inning with a solo home run to give the American League a 6-5 lead. Thirteen of the 14 runs came via an All-Star Game record 10 home runs. Max Scherzer tallied four strikeouts across 2.0 innings while making the start for the National League. Bryce Harper started the game in center field. Nationals manager Dave Martinez served as a coach on Dave Roberts' National League staff. Prior to the game, MLB paid tribute to 29 Medal of Honor recipients with a special video narrated by Bradley Cooper and a unique national anthem with performers dressed and positioned to create a large American Flag.

T-MOBILE HOME RUN DERBY

Nationals outfielder Bryce Harper - with the help of father Ron Harper and motivation from teammates Max Scherzer and Sean Doolittle - claimed victory in the T-Mobile Home Run Derby. Harper beat Atlanta's Freddie Freeman (1st rd.), Los Angeles Dodger Max Muncy (2nd rd.) and Chicago's Kyle Schwarber (final) en route to becoming the third player ever to win the Derby in his home ballpark, joining Hall of Famer Ryne Sandberg (1990, Wrigley Field) and Todd Frazier (2015, Great American Ball Park). In the final round, Harper clubbed nine home runs in the final minute and a half before receiving an additional 30 seconds of time. He hit his 19th home run of the round on his second swing, giving him the title. After the Derby-winning homer left his bat, Harper was mobbed by teammates Max Scherzer and Sean Doolittle, and was lifted in the air by manager Dave Martinez.

SiriusXM ALL-STAR FUTURES GAME

Team USA and Team World combined for eight home runs as the U.S. squad topped the World, 10-6. Cincinnati Reds prospect Taylor Trammell earned MVP honors, going 2-for-2 with a home run and a triple. Top Nationals prospects Carter Kieboom (0-for-2) and Luis Garcia (0-for-0, BB) entered the game as defensive replacements.



LEGENDS & CELEBRITY SOFTBALL GAME

The All-Star Legends & Celebrity Softball Game, part of All-Star Sunday, featured legends and celebrities competing together. Celebrities such as Jamie Foxx, Jennie Finch, Quincy Brown, Ashley Greene, Chris Jackson, Skai Jackson, Brian Kelley, Tim Kurkjian, Sascha Polanco, Taylor Kinney, Brandon Larracuente, J.R. The Air Force and Army won the right to play for the newly-minted trophy crowned by an eagle figurine in the first installment of the tournament. On June 2nd and 3rd, the five branches of the military competed in a round robin tournament, with the Air Force and Army each compiling 3-1 records to advance. The inaugural All-Star Armed Services Classic presented by T-Mobile ended in a 9-2 win for the Air Force over the Army. Major League Baseball and the Washington Nationals designed the event to support and honor the general military community, as well as the many service members and families stationed in the National Capital Region.

NEGRO LEAGUES TRIBUTE AT BEN'S CHILI BOWL

LEGACY PROJECTS

Shortly after Washington, D.C. was announced as the host of the 89th MLB All-Star Game, Major League Baseball, the Washington Nationals and the Nationals Dream Foundation began planning the 2018 All-Star Legacy initiative. Through this annual Midsummer Classic program, approximately $5 million was given to seven community enrichment projects designed to leave a lasting impact throughout the local community, as well as support national charitable organizations with close ties to baseball.

Nationals All-Star Field at Walker Mill Regional Park (Prince George's County, Md.)

One baseball field was fully renovated while a secondary field was reconfigured and improved to allow different age groups to utilize the fields and expand youth baseball play overall. Areas of improvements included field grading, upgrades to sod and ballfield mix, the additions of a new irrigation system, scoreboard, covered dugouts, bleachers with shade structures, batting cage and storage shed. Upgrades to the field will allow for a variety of youth-focused activities, including PLAY BALL events (e.g., Scotts MLB Pitch, Hit & Run; Jr. Home Run Derby), youth showcase and league games, and more. The Prince George's County Parks and Recreation Foundation and Prince George's County Department of Parks and Recreation will be able to promote baseball and healthy, active lifestyles to more than 3,000 kids.

Bryce Harper All-Star Complex (Herndon, Va.)

In association with the Fairfax County Park Authority, MLB, the Nationals and the Dream Foundation worked to renovate two youth baseball fields that will serve as a beacon for youth baseball players in Northern Virginia, particularly Reston Herndon Little League. This field renovation project will expand overall play after enlarging one of the fields, which will accommodate various age levels. The improvements also included laser grading of the field being expanded, an extended irrigation system, as well as additions of new scoreboards, covered dugouts, bleachers with shade structures, and enhancements to a storage shed, fencing, batting cages, bullpens, a concession stand and restrooms. The Scotts® Company, the Official Lawn Care Company of Major League Baseball, generously supported this project. The complex was renamed after Bryce Harper following his significant personal contribution to this project.

USO-Metro All-Star Depot at Fort Belvoir (Fairfax County, Va.)

This project included a fully renovated 12,000-square-foot USO logistics facility at Fort Belvoir, featuring a new HVAC system and commercial-grade refrigeration units. The facility is primarily used to receive and store non-perishable goods and program supplies that are delivered weekly to the nine USO-Metro locations in the Washington D.C. region. This renovation increased the amount of products and supplies that can be stored at the facility, including the addition of bulk perishable foods to the inventory distributed to the nine USO-Metro locations. The facility also serves as an important program and event venue throughout the year, and these renovations expanded USO-Metro's reach and provided more programming throughout the year to local service members and their families.

Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Washington -- All-Star Teen Room at Richard England Clubhouse #14 (Washington, D.C.)

This project featured a complete renovation and expansion of Clubhouse #14's Teen Room, including new furniture, TVs, computers and games, allowing much-needed space and supplies for multifaceted afterschool activities. Four inoperative HVAC units were replaced, providing a temperate climate year-round for the entire Clubhouse. Many inoperable doors were also replaced, providing increased safety for all at Clubhouse #14. MLB, the Nationals and the Dream Foundation hope to help retention rates among current members, as well as attract new ones to Clubhouse #14.

Mobile Dental Unit with Children's National (Various Locations throughout Greater Washington, D.C.)

MLB, the Nationals, the Dream Foundation, and Jeff Franzen and Sons provided a brand-new mobile dental unit serving 19 sites in Wards 7 & 8 and Prince George's County, Md. In these areas, there is just one dentist for every 4,000 residents (less than half of the national average), and this unit is bringing dental health professionals directly to more children and providing them with much-needed dental services. The unit also provides a more comfortable experience for both health professionals and children being treated. This mobile dental unit replaced another unit that Children's National, the leading pediatric health system in the Washington D.C. area, launched in 2001 to serve District of Columbia's Wards 7 & 8 and Prince George's County. Additionally, the new unit comes with the latest dental equipment and more patient chairs to serve more children than the previous unit allowed.

All-Star Pavilion at Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy (Washington, D.C.)

The Washington Nationals Youth Baseball Academy has become a hub for youth baseball and softball in the District, and the All-Star Pavilion, which is located next to the Academy's main field, has become a key element to programming and events since being unveiled during All-Star Week. The All-Star Pavilion is a 2,880-square-foot open-air space that covers four short-throw batting cages. These covered batting cages provide much-needed, weather-protected spaces and give scholar-athletes the ability to practice their baseball and softball skills in an open and airy environment. Additionally, the All-Star Pavilion allows for the creation of an outdoor gathering area with picnic tables for the Academy's farmers market and community use. The All-Star Pavilion is utilized year-round.

All-Star Teen Room, Playground, Computer Lab & Community Room at SOME Spring Road (Washington, D.C.)

MLB, the Nationals and the Dream Foundation provided a teen room, playground, computer lab and community room in cooperation with a much larger project with SOME (So Others Might Eat) Spring Road. SOME Spring Road offers safe, affordable housing to 37 homeless and extremely low-income families, including more than 100 children, currently living in Washington D.C. SOME's high-level supportive programs are being housed in these new MLB & Nationals-supported areas, and have given the resident children the ability to safely play and have fun right outside of their front door. Providing onsite programming for Spring Road's resident children and teens not only eliminates transportation barriers impacting participation, but gives parents peace of mind knowing that their children are safe at their family's home base.

BIG TRAIN

How dominant was Senators right-hander Walter Johnson, who was a member of the National Baseball Hall of Fame's inaugural class in 1936? Johnson was a two-time American League MVP (1913, 1924) who paced the AL in strikeouts 12 times, shutouts seven times, wins six times, complete games six times, ERA five times, innings five times, games started four times and winning percentage twice. He never once posted a triple-digit walk total.

A closer look at where Johnson ranks, entering the 2026 season, on various all-time leader boards:

Wins: 417 (2nd, Cy Young 511)
ERA: 2.16 (7th, Ed Walsh 1.82)
Complete Games: 531 (5th, Cy Young 749)

THE HISTORY OF THE MONTREAL EXPOS (1969-2004)

The city of Montreal had a long association with professional baseball even before it was awarded a Major League franchise in 1968. On April 18, 1946, the Montreal Royals, a minor league affiliate of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the International League, secured their place in baseball history when Jackie Robinson made his professional debut and became the first African-American to play professional baseball in the 20th Century.

More than two decades later, as the National League was seeking to expand by two franchises, former Montreal city councillor Gerry Snyder presented the city's formal bid during an owners' meeting in Mexico City, Mexico. Six months later on May 27, 1968, it was announced that Major League Baseball was expanding outside the United States for the first time as Montreal was awarded a National League franchise to begin play in 1969.

Despite some early concerns about the team's financing, Montreal met its initial deposit deadline and officially became a member of the National League on Aug. 14, 1968. Charles Bronfman, a distillery magnate and an original investor, was named chairman with Paul Beaudry and Lorne Webster as vice-chairmen. John McHale was named president and chief executive officer, while Jim Fanning was appointed the team's first general manager.

On Sept. 5, 1968, the Montreal franchise named Gene Mauch field manager. Mauch was returning to familiar ground as he played two seasons for the minor league Montreal Royals in 1943 and 1944. McHale also announced that the team would be known as the Expos, in recognition of Expos 67, an international exhibition that attracted 50 million visitors to the city in 1967.

Only five days later, pitcher Dave Hartman became the first player to sign a contract with the Expos. Hartman never actually played for the Expos or made it to the Major Leagues. However, an expansion draft was conducted on Oct. 14, 1968 and the Expos selected the following 30 players:

Manny Mota, Mack Jones, John Bateman, Gary Sutherland, John Billingham, Donn Clendenon, Jesus Alou, Mike Wegener, Skip Guinn, Bill Stoneman, Maury Wills, Larry Jackson, Bob Reynolds, Dan McGinn, Jose Herrera, Jim Williams, Angel Hermoso, Jim Grant, Jerry Robertson, Don Shaw, Ty Cline, Garry Jestadt, Carl Morton, Larry Jaster, Ernest McAnally, Jim Fairey, Jose Laboy, John Boccabella, Rob Brand and John Glass.

The Expos' first home ballpark was Jarry Park, a converted minor league stadium named after former councillor Raoul Jarry in 1927. Jarry Park's initial capacity was 3,000, but was expanded to 28,450 as the ballpark met MLB standards.

Montreal made its National League debut on April 8, 1969 at Shea Stadium in New York against one of the National League's last expansion teams, the Mets. The Expos held off a furious ninth inning rally to claim an 11-10 victory. Pitcher Dan McGinn hit the first home run in franchise history, a solo shot off future Hall of Famer Tom Seaver in the fourth inning.

Jarry Park hosted its first regular season game six days later as 29,814 fans witnessed Major League Baseball in Canada for the first time. Despite facing a St. Louis Cardinals lineup that featured names such as Lou Brock, Curt Flood, Dal Maxvill and Joe Torre, the Expos treated their fans to an 8-7 win.

One of the highlights of the inaugural season came on April 17 at Connie Mack Stadium in Philadelphia. Bill Stoneman, later a general manager with the Expos and the Anaheim Angels, pitched the franchise's first no-hitter in defeating the Phillies, 7-0. The Expos would go on to finish the season with a 52-110 mark.

The following season saw Montreal improve by 21 games under Mauch. Twenty-six-year-old pitcher Carl Morton went 18-11 with a 3.26 ERA en route to being named the 1970 NL Rookie of the Year. In 1973, the Expos made their first pennant chase as they won 79 games and were in the race for the National League East title until the final weekend of the season.

After a few disappointing seasons, the Expos moved into Olympic Stadium in 1977, which was the main venue for the 1976 Olympic Games. A crowd of 57,592 fans attended the first game at The Big O as the Expos fell to the Phillies, 7-2.

Montreal started to form the nucleus of a team that would bring home its first NL East title with players such as Ellis Valentine, Andre Dawson, Warren Cromartie, Gary Carter and Steve Rogers. The Expos won 95 games in 1979 only to fall two games shy of the title and were again in the pennant race until the final game of the 1980 season.

In 1981, the Expos finally cleared the hurdle as they won the NL East's second-half title in a season shortened by a players' strike. In a best-of-five Divisional Series, Montreal topped first-half champion Philadelphia, three games to two, and advanced to their first NLCS.

The NLCS against Tommy Lasorda's Los Angeles Dodgers went down to the ninth inning of the fifth and deciding game. With the game tied at 1-1, Dodgers outfielder Rick Monday hit a two-out solo homer off Rogers. The Expos put two runners on in the bottom of the ninth, but could not tie the score as Los Angeles advanced to the World Series.

In 1982, Montreal hosted the first Major League Baseball All-Star Game to be held outside of the United States. The National League won its 11th consecutive Midsummer Classic on the strength of a home run by Cincinnati's Dave Concepcion. Five players represented the Expos on the NL squad: Carter, Rogers, Dawson, Tim Raines and Al Oliver.

Montreal remained competitive throughout much of the next decade, including 91 wins in 1987 by a team led by Raines, Andres Galarraga, Hubie Brooks and Tim Wallach.

Bronfman sold the franchise to team president Claude Brochu on June 14, 1991. The next season Brochu appointed long-time Montreal coach Felipe Alou as field manager. Alou guided the Expos to 87 victories and a second-place finish in his first year at the helm and then improved upon that with 94 wins in 1993.

The 1994 season saw a core group of players such as Larry Walker, Marquis Grissom, Moises Alou, Pedro Martinez, Ken Hill and John Wetteland storm out to a 74-40 mark - the best in the Major Leagues - and a six-game lead in the newly-formed National League East on Aug. 11. However, the season was never completed. A players' strike began the following day that would wipe out the remainder of the 1994 schedule.

After the changing economics of the baseball landscape forced the Expos to trade some of those core players, the '95 team finished in last place in the NL East. It was only the second time since 1977 that Montreal finished in last place.

Two years later, Martinez continued to establish himself as one of the top starting pitchers in the Major Leagues. He posted a 17-8 record with a 1.90 ERA, 305 strikeouts and 13 complete games en route to being the only Expos' pitcher to win the National League Cy Young Award. That winter, Martinez was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

The 1998 season was marked by stellar individual performances on the field and uncertainty off the field. Outfielder Vladimir Guerrero, 22, displayed his immense talent by setting six Montreal records, including the club single-season home run mark. Also, 24-year-old closer Ugueth Urbina recorded 34 saves with a 1.30 ERA, and Alou became the franchise's most successful manager with his 521st victory on Aug. 19.

Off the field, Brochu struggled in an attempt to finalize funding for a new downtown ballpark and announced his willingness to sell his shares of the franchise. In 1999, Jeffrey Loria was officially approved as the Expos controlling person following a buy-back of Brochu's shares. In February 2002, Major League Baseball approved the sale of the Florida Marlins to Loria and the sale of the Expos to Major League Baseball and the 29 other Major League Clubs. A new Expos senior management team was announced: Tony Tavares (president), Omar Minaya (general manager) and Hall of Famer Frank Robinson (field manager). Baseball Commissioner Allan H. (Bud) Selig also announced the formation of a relocation committee to seek a new permanent home for the franchise.

The 2003 and 2004 seasons saw the Expos make baseball history by playing a portion of their home schedule at Hiram Bithorn Stadium in San Juan, Puerto Rico. Fans in Puerto Rico celebrated the return of Major League Baseball to the island. The Expos drew nearly 530,000 fans and posted a 20-23 mark over their 43 games played at Hiram Bithorn Stadium during the two-season trial. On Sept. 29, 2004, Commissioner Selig announced the formal approval of the relocation of the Expos franchise to the nation's capital, Washington, D.C., for the 2005 season.

TRIPLE YOUR PLEASURE

It took 1,882 games and more than 11 seasons in D.C. before the Nationals experienced the thrill of turning a triple play.

On July 29, 2016 at AT&T Park in San Francisco, the Nationals clung to a 4-1 lead in the bottom of the eighth inning. The Giants loaded the bases with nobody out, bringing the dangerous Brandon Crawford to the plate. Dusty Baker brought lefty Sammy Solis in to pitch and bolstered his defense, inserting shortstop Danny Espinosa and first baseman Ryan Zimmerman behind Solis. Some may be inclined to refer to this as a "triple switch," but Espinosa was inserted straight up for Wilmer Difo, while Solis and Zimmerman entered on a "double switch."

Crawford ripped a line drive directly at Zimmerman, who was playing the line to prevent an extra base hit. Zimmerman caught the line drive and stepped on first base to double off Buster Posey. Former National Denard Span read the line drive off the bat as a base hit and broke from third base, assuming he would trot home. Zimmerman calmly tossed the ball across the diamond, where Anthony Rendon was waiting near the bag. He caught it, stepped on third base and completed the first triple play in Washington Nationals history (2005-present). It was also the first 3-3-5 triple play in Major League history.

Beyond that historic night, below are some notes on where the triple play fits into Washington's baseball history:

THE LAST TIME A D.C.-BASED TEAM HIT INTO A TRIPLE PLAY: May 19, 2010 vs. NYM. Cristian Guzman laced a sinking liner to center field that resulted in an unconventional 8-2-6-3 triple play. Angel Pagan retired Guzman by snagging the line drive, but Pagan's throw to second base was off target and bounced toward the mound, where the catcher Henry Blanco raced to scoop it up. Blanco immediately fired the ball to shortstop Jose Reyes at second base to double off Livan Hernandez. Reyes then gunned the ball to first baseman Ike Davis, who toed the bag to "triple" off Nyjer Morgan, who began the play at first base.

THE LAST TRIPLE PLAY TURNED BY THE WASHINGTON SENATORS: July 30, 1968 at Cleveland Stadium. It was an unassisted triple play turned by Ron Hansen, who caught Joe Azcue's popup before tagging Dave Nelson (began play on second base) and Russ Snyder (began play on first base) out in sequence to cap the bottom of the first inning.

THE LAST TIME A D.C.-BASED TEAM TURNED A TRIPLE PLAY IN A HOME GAME: April 24, 1954 vs. BOS. With runners on first (Billy Goodman) and second (Tom Brewer) base, BOS' Karl Olsen popped up a bunt and the AL Nationals turned a 1-6-3 triple play as left-handed pitcher Mickey McDermott and shortstop Mel Hoderlein each recorded a putout and an assist on the play. First baseman Roy Sievers finished feat with a putout.

RING OF HONOR AT NATIONALS PARK

On Aug. 10, 2010, the Washington Nationals unveiled their Ring of Honor at Nationals Park, honoring baseball Hall of Famers with distinct ties to Washington's baseball heritage. The display, located directly behind home plate and extending to the right field and left field facades, features Hall of Famers and those with distinguised histories with the Washington Nationals, Washington Senators, Homestead Grays and Montreal Expos.

The Nationals, in conjunction with the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in Cooperstown, NY, initially developed the following criteria to honor Hall of Famers: The player had to be elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame, the player had to have played or managed with the Washington Nationals, Washington Senators, Homestead Grays or Montreal Expos, the player had to have played significant years with those teams. In 2016, the criteria was adjusted to honor others who have made significant contributions to the game of baseball in Washington, D.C.

2019 POSTSEASON

CHAMPIONS
FIGHT FINISHED.

From a 19-31 record to start the 2019 season, to the National League Wild Card game against the Milwaukee Brewers, to Game 7 of the World Series against the Houston Astros, Washington's historic path to its first World Series Championship can best be described by what Nationals manager Dave Martinez said following Game 4 of the National League Championship Series:

"Often bumpy roads lead to beautiful places.

And this is a beautiful place."

HISTORY MADE

On that bumpy road to winning the World Series, the Washington Nationals had many memorable moments and made some history along the way...

- They became the first team in Major League history to win the World Series by winning all four games on the road.
- The Nationals faced elimination five times in the 2019 Postseason. They trailed in all five and came back to win all five. They are the first team in Major League history to have five comeback wins when facing elimination in a single Postseason.
- The pitchers they beat in those games included Josh Hader, Rich Hill, Clayton Kershaw, Justin Verlander and Zack Greinke.
- In those five contests, the Nationals outscored opponents 19-0 from the seventh inning on.
- From Game 4 of the NLDS to Game 3 of the World Series, the Nationals put together an eight-game winning streak. The eight-game winning streak matched the longest winning streak by any Club in a single Postseason, joining the 2014 Kansas City Royals, 2005 Chicago White Sox and 2004 Boston Red Sox.

NATIONAL LEAGUE WILD CARD GAME vs. MILWAUKEE BREWERS

After capping the 2019 regular season with a season-long eight-game winning streak, the Washington Nationals hosted the Milwaukee Brewers in their first ever appearance in the National League Wild Card game.

Trailing 3-1 in the bottom of the eighth inning, the Nationals loaded the bases against relief ace Josh Hader. Michael A. Taylor reached on a hit by pitch, Ryan Zimmerman singled and Anthony Rendon worked a walk. With two outs, Juan Soto singled to right field, plating Taylor and pinch-runner Andrew Stevenson. Thanks to a fielding error by right fielder Trent Grisham, Anthony Rendon was able to score from first base to put the Nationals ahead, 4-3.

Daniel Hudson closed the game out and the Nationals moved on to face the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League Division Series.

WASHINGTON NATIONALS 3

NATIONAL LEAGUE DIVISION SERIES vs. LOS ANGELES DODGERS

The Nationals embarked on their fifth appearance in the NLDS, facing off against their 2016 NLDS foe, the Los Angeles Dodgers. Washington dropped Game 1, 6-0, but evened the series at one game apiece by taking Game 2, 4-2, behind Stephen Strasburg and his 10 strikeouts in 6.0 innings of one-run ball. To much surprise, Dave Martinez summoned Max Scherzer from the bullpen, and he went on to strike out the side in the eighth inning.

After a 10-4 loss in Game 3, the Nationals faced elimination in Game 4. Max Scherzer allowed one earned run in 7.0 innings, while Anthony Rendon (1-for-2, 3 RBI, R) and Ryan Zimmerman (2-for-4, HR, 3 RBI, R) led Washington to the 6-1 victory, forcing a Game 5 in Los Angeles.

Game 5 saw the Nationals fall behind, 3-0, after two innings. Washington scored a run in the sixth inning and, in the eighth inning, Anthony Rendon and Juan Soto clubbed back-to-back home runs off Clayton Kershaw to tie the game at 3-3. The game extended into extra innings and in the top of the 10th, Adam Eaton walked, Rendon doubled and the Dodgers intentionally walked Juan Soto, bringing Howie Kendrick to the plate. Kendrick took an 0-1 offering from Joe Kelly over the fence in center field, a grand slam to give the Nationals the 7-3 advantage. A diving catch by Michael A. Taylor in the bottom half of the inning sealed the win for Washington and sent the organization to the National League Championship Series for the first time.

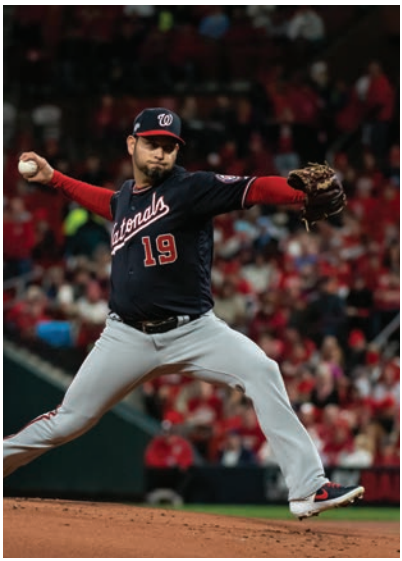
Aníbal Sánchez's masterful performance in Game 1 at Busch Stadium set the tone for the 2019 NLCS. He took a no-hitter into the eighth inning before allowing a one-out single to José Martinez. Sánchez handed the ball to Sean Doolittle, who tossed 1.1 perfect innings to earn the save and secure Washington's 2-0 win.



In Game 2, Max Scherzer attempted to match Sánchez's outing from the night before. Scherzer tossed 6.0 no-hit innings before allowing a single to Paul Goldschmidt in the seventh. He finished the outing striking out 11 batters in 7.0 innings of one-hit, shutout ball. Adam Eaton recorded two RBI and Michael A. Taylor clubbed a solo homer in the third inning to help Washington to the 3-1 win.

The series shifted to Washington for Game 3, and while Stephen Strasburg (7.0 IP, 7 H, R, 12 SO) was magnificent once again, the Nationals offense broke out to lead them to the 8-1 win. Howie Kendrick recorded three doubles and three RBI, while Ryan Zimmerman had a double and two RBI, as well. Victor Robles clubbed a sixth-inning solo home run and the Nationals found themselves one win away from the World Series.

In Game 4, the Nationals plated seven runs in the first inning behind multi-RBI efforts from Trea Turner (2) and Yan Gomes (2). Patrick Corbin struck out 12 batters in 5.0 innings, and despite the Cardinals plating four runs between the fourth and fifth innings, the Nationals held on for the 7-4, NLCS-clinching victory.

WASHINGTON NATIONALS 4

WORLD SERIES vs. HOUSTON ASTROS

Representing Washington, D.C. in the World Series for the first time since 1933, the Washington Nationals took Game 1 of the 2019 World Series, 5-4, over the Houston Astros. Trailing 2-0 after the bottom of the first, Ryan Zimmerman clubbed the first home run in Nationals World Series history to put Washington on the board in the second inning. The Nationals tied it in the fourth and took the lead in the fifth inning on an RBI-single by Adam Eaton and a two-run double by Juan Soto. Sean Doolittle closed it out with 1.1 perfect innings to seal the 5-4 victory.

In Game 2, the Nationals and Astros were tied at 2-2 after one inning before the Nationals went on to plate 10 runs from the sixth through ninth innings to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the World Series. Kurt Suzuki and Adam Eaton each clubbed their first career World Series home runs, while Asdrúbal Cabrera went 2-for-5 with three RBI.

Washington's 2-0 lead did not last long. Houston won games three through five at Nationals Park, sending the series back to Minute Maid Park with the Astros leading, 3-2.

In Game 6, Stephen Strasburg capped his historic 2019 Postseason, becoming the only pitcher to go 5-0 in a Postseason in Major League history. He tossed 8.1 innings of five-hit, two-run ball to lead the Nationals. After trailing 2-1 after the first inning, Juan Soto, Adam Eaton and Anthony Rendon homered, and Rendon recorded five RBI on his own to power Washington's offense. Sean Doolittle finished off the ninth inning in relief of Strasburg and the Nationals topped the Astros, 7-2, to force a Game 7.

After being scratched from his Game 5 start with neck spasms, Max Scherzer returned to full strength to take the hill in Game 7. He worked around seven hits and four walks to allow just two earned runs in 5.0 innings of work before handing the ball to rotation mate Patrick Corbin. The first-year National allowed just two hits with three strikeouts in 3.0 shutout innings of relief.

Trailing 2-0 heading to the top of the seventh inning, Anthony Rendon finally got to Astros pitcher Zack Greinke with a solo home run to left field. Juan Soto drew a walk and the Astros replaced the dealing Greinke with Will Harris. Howie Kendrick added to his already clutch Postseason with a two-run home run off the right field foul pole to give the Nationals the 3-2 lead.

The Nationals added a run in the eighth inning thanks to an RBI-single by Juan Soto, and plated two more in the ninth on a bases-loaded, two-run single by Adam Eaton to extend the lead to 6-2. Dave Martinez summoned Daniel Hudson for the ninth inning. After inducing a popup by George Springer, Hudson struck out Jose Altuve and Michael Brantley to give the Washington Nationals their first World Series Championship.

NATIONALS ON THE RADIO

106.7 THE FAN

For the 16th consecutive season, 106.7 The Fan will serve as the official flagship radio station for Washington Nationals baseball. Audacy, Inc. owns and operates 106.7 The Fan, which broadcasts select Nationals Spring Training games, as well as all regular season and potential Postseason games. Charlie Slowes and Dave Jageler are back in the booth once again, marking their 21st consecutive season together as the Nationals' radio broadcast team. Slowes has been with the Nationals since the club's inaugural campaign in 2005, while Jageler joined him behind the mic in 2006.

106.7 The Fan will broadcast a variety of Nationals-related programs, including a weekly show from Spring Training, and pre- and post-game shows. The station will also operate a studio set at Nationals Park for pre- and post-game coverage, as well as special live broadcasts of its local sports talk shows. 106.7 The Fan broadcasts an exciting lineup of local sports talk shows including The Sports Junkies, BMitch & Finlay, and The Grant & Danny Show.

CHARLIE SLOWES

2026 marks Charlie Slowes' 22nd season behind a Nationals' play-by-play microphone. Having called the first pitch in Club history, Daniel Hudson's historic strikeout to secure the club's 2019 World Championship and more, Slowes has called some of the biggest moments in Nationals history. Slowes became the original voice of the Nationals on February 24, 2005, in time for the team's inaugural Spring Training. His trademark taglines of "BANG, ZOOM go the fireworks!" and "A Curly W is in the books!" after Nationals victories soon became part of the Beltway's baseball lexicon. Joined by long-time partner Dave Jageler in 2006, Slowes is calling his 29th consecutive and 34th overall year of Major League Baseball. When baseball returned to Washington, D.C., in 2005, so did Slowes, following seven seasons as an original voice of the Tampa Bay Rays. Slowes first came to the nation's capital in 1986, beginning an 11-year stint as the radio voice of the NBA's Washington Bullets. Slowes had previously called baseball for the New York Mets (1988 & 1991) on WFAN-AM, the Baltimore Orioles (1989-90) on WBAL-AM, and nationally for NBC-TV and CBS Radio. Slowes also called Triple-A baseball for the Tidewater Tides on radio and TV in 1986, 1988, 1991 and 1992. Slowes is among the many (including legendary Ford Frick Award winner Vin Scully) to enter sports broadcasting after graduating from Fordham University. A native of New York City, Slowes honed his skills on the airwaves of Fordham's 50,000-watt blowtorch WFUV 90.7 FM. Not long after graduation, Slowes moved to St. Louis and KMOX Radio, where for three years he was exposed to Hall of Fame broadcasters Jack Buck and Bob Costas. Slowes was involved in broadcasts of Cardinals baseball, Cardinals football, Blues hockey and St. Louis University basketball. He has also called boxing for ESPN, MISL soccer for the New York Arrows (1983), college basketball for the University of South Florida and has been a correspondent for MLB Network. Slowes called play-by-play for his third Washington pro sports team when he filled in for John Walton on Washington Capitals radio during the Caps' Stanley Cup championship run in February of 2018. Charlie and his wife, Tina, have two adult sons, Jim and Alex, with homes in Alexandria, Va., and Palm Harbor, Fla.

DAVE JAGELER

Dave Jageler enters his 21st season with the Nationals, teaming with Charlie Slowes since 2006 to form the longest-running radio play-by-play duo in the District. Jageler has been at the mic for the Nationals' historic run to the 2019 World Series championship, plus four NL East championships, three no-hitters and Max Scherzer's MLB record-tying 20-strikeout performance. In addition to his work with the Nationals, Jageler calls select MLB games on ESPN Radio. In 2020 and 2023, he was honored by the National Sports Media Association as Washington, D.C.'s Sportscaster of the Year. Jageler joined the Nationals after spending the 2005 campaign as the radio and TV voice of the Pawtucket Red Sox of the Triple-A International League. Prior to joining Pawtucket, he worked in Boston co-hosting an afternoon talk show and serving in various capacities with the Boston Celtics Radio Network, including fill-in play-by-play. Jageler spent six years in Charlotte, N.C., as the voice of UNC-Charlotte basketball and as co-host of a morning drive talk show. While in Charlotte, he built his baseball resume with the Triple-A Charlotte Knights in the 1995, 1996 and 2001 seasons calling play-by-play. Jageler's voice was also heard in D.C., as he served as a host on the Virginia Tech Sports Network during the 1993-94 basketball season. He has also served as the studio host for Westwood One's NHL Game of the Week, the Florida State and Texas Longhorns Football Networks, and has done fill-in play-by-play for both the Seminoles and Longhorns. The Windsor, Conn., native is a graduate of Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, where he began his play-by-play career broadcasting Syracuse football and basketball games on WAER, and baseball for the Triple-A Syracuse Chiefs on Time Warner Cable and the Empire Sports Network. Dave and his wife, Jennifer, have two children: Jared (24) and Sarah (20).
